Chester Driver Hurt

Auto Makes 80-Foot Dive

A 36-year-old Chester area motorist is hospitalized today with injuries received in a spectacular plunge over a steep embankment off Fairview Rd. early this morning.

A four-door sedan driven by Herbert C. Moore of Washington School Rd. veered off the road and plunged some 80 feet down a tree-dotted embankment, coming to rest at the edge of a small stream.

Moore is in "fair" condition at City Hospital with lacerations of the scalp, forehead and fingers received in the crash about 5 a. m.

According to witnesses, Moore was en route home when his coach went over the right side of the road, striking several trees and knocking over small bushes in its plunge down the steep embankment into the hollow.

Moore's auto was damaged badly and the force of the vehicle striking strees ripped off the hood, which landed in the stream.

Witnesses said several similiar accidents have occurred near the same site because there are no guard rails along the road in that area.

Meanwhile, Hancock County sheriff's deputies reported that three youths at the County Children's Home at Pughtown wrecked a truck owned by the home early this morning after an apparent "joy ride." None was believed injured. Deputies said the youths also were riding in a station wagon about 3 a. m. today.

4 Killed, 50 Others Hurt As Train Jumps Track

Speed's Put At 80 Miles In Tragedy

Diesel Locomotives Rip Signal Tower; Fuel Catches Fire

By ROBERT L. SHAFFER

WELLINGTON, Ohio (AP)—A 10-car New York Central flyer, being detoured around a waiting freight, hurtled off its rails at 80 m.p.h. here Sunday night. At least four persons were killed and more than 50 were hurt.

The steel and flesh - rending crackup of the fast flying Southwest Limited occurred so close to a track intersection with the Nickel Plate Railroad that it was thought at first that the intersection might have had some blame in the tragedy.

About 155 passengers — some headed as far east as New York City—were aboard the St. Louis-to-Cleveland train when it came to grief in this village of 3,000 about 37 miles southwest of Cleveland.

There was an unconfirmed report there may have been a brake failure on the flyer as it roared through the misty night.

As it leaped like a thing alive from its tracks, the train's three-diesel locomotive flattened an unoccupied signal tower at the track intersection. Then the train crumpled.

Leaking diesl fuel caught fire almost immediately and the smoke mingled with the mist and the flame.

W. B. Salter of Indianapolis, general manager of the southern district of the New York Central, told newsmen it appears from speedometer tapes that the flyer was moving about 80 m.p.h. when it left the tracks. Each unit of the three-unit diesel made a tape recording of the speed, but he based his estimate on two of the tapes. He said the third was questionable.

Salter also said it is his understanding the Limited was moving across a crossover near the Nickle Plate intersection when it derailed. He said the passenger train apparently was being routed around a freight train ahead of it.

John Dolan, an attorney for the New York Central, told newsmen it is definite the Limited jumped the track on what railroaders know as a crossover. The eastbound train, he said, was being routed over a westbound track to swing around a freight train ahead. Dolan said the Southwest Limited hit the crossover before it hit the intersection.

Two cars took the brunt of the smashup. One was a combination baggage - passenger coach which spun sideways across the tracks and was smashed broadside by the coach which followed it. Most of the dead and seriously injured were removed from these two cars.

Coroner Paul Kopsch of Lorain County said bodies of these persons had been recovered:

Phil J. Lehman, 46, of Cleveland, a fireman on the wrecked train.

George P. Rummel, 55, of North Butler, Ind., an off-duty conductor.

Kenneth Hale, 42, of Route 1, Rosedale, Ind.

Looted Safe Recovered In Hanoverton Theft

LISBON — A new pickup truck an office safe and welding equipment stolen last Tuesday from the A. J. Loudon Co. at Hanoverton were recovered Saturday morning, but the safe had been cracked and $230 in cash taken, Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan reported today.

Two men, Roy Johnson and R. H. Ruhl, reported sighting the red truck with the safe in it parked along a country road between the Lisbon-Millport Rd. and Route 164. The road is seldom traveled.

The thieves had tried to burn open the safe with the welding equipment but were unsuccessful. They them battered it open, the sheriff said. All other contents in the safe were recovered.

Authorities from the Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation at the London Prison Farm checked the truck and safe for finger prints Sunday. The truck had been driven about 100 miles, according to the speedometer.

Judge Orders Jail Term For 'Drag Racers'

Two Wellsville service station attendants drew 3-day jail terms and fines of $50 and costs each today in Municpal Court after being nabbed Sunday afternoon on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd. while drag racing at 105 miles an hour.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff imposed the jail terms and fines on David L. Eaton, 323 Wells Ave., and Harvey A. McCauley, 428 Broadway, after warning both they stand to lose their licenses if cited into court on future violations.

State Highway Patrolman E. D. Wain caught the pair near West End after chasing them from the western end of Wellsville, where they lined up to start the race.

Wain said he started up the highway just as the race started.

Eaton and McCauley each pleaded guilty to the charges of reckless operation.

Eaton told the judge he has been married almost four years and has two young children. Learning that Eaton's wife was in the car during the race, Judge Chertoff said: "You certainly don't think much of her, do you?"

Noting that McCauley's license expires in 1961, the judge declared, "One more violation and you won't have a license any more. And it might be a good thing if you didn't."

In pronouncing sentence, Judge Chertoff said the three days in jail are to be served consecutively "and not at your leisure."

"Let this be a lesson to you and every other drag racer. The next time you may get the max-

Davis Wins Runoff For Governor

Peace And Harmony Goal, New Louisiana Head Says

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Ballad-singing Jimmie Davis, winner of Louisiana's Democratic runoff for governor, today sought to return this political topsy-turvy state to "peace and harmony."

The 58-year-old former governor said he would create a state sovereignty commission to preserve segregation. Negroes have pressed suits in three parishes (counties) to begin school integration.

"I've been all over the nation," said Davis, "and I'm convinced the Southland is the happiest place in the nation. I think right-thinking white people and right-thinking colored people believe that."

Davis also pledged to keep hands off an independent Legislature and promised he would not build a political machine in this state that remembers the web-like control of Huey P. Long.

A record turnout signaled the end of the Long era. The ticket of lame duck Gov. Earl K. Long, Huey's brother, was soundly whipped in the Dec. 5 primary.

Davis piled up a 71,000 vote lead over New Orleans Mayor deLesseps S. Morrison, seeking to become Louisiana's first Catholic governor since 1884. Davis, a Baptist, got 486,095 votes to Morri-

Mrs. Stella Porter, 54, of N. Chestnut St. is in "fair" condition at Weirton General Hospital, where she was transferred after the mishap.

Mrs. Porter suffered a fractured skull, concussion and contusions of the left arm.

Newell Burchett, 32, of 1022 Ambrose Ave. forfeited a $31 bond today in Municipal Court on a charge of failing to yield the right-of-way to a pedestrian.

Police said Mrs. Porter and her daughter were crossing E. 6th St. from south to North about 2 p. m. Saturday when Burchett's car hit Mrs. Porter and she knocked down her daughter as she started to fall. The women were crossing with a red light, police said.

$21,000 Is Taken In Bank Robbery

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Two gunmen who entered the Boardman Plaza branch of the Mahoning National Bank through an air duct on the roof held up 12 employes today and escaped with more than $21,000.

Bank officials said $21,000 in loot had been accounted for. Also stolen were several sacks, containing an undetermined amount of money, from the night deposit box. Unofficial estimates said the loot may be near $50,000.

Police said the robbers apparently had entered the bank some time Sunday night. The two men, armed with revolvers, waited in the basement until bank employes arrived this morning.

An automobile, which police said was used for a getaway by the gunmen, was found on a country road about a mile south of the shopping plaza where the bank is located. Its engine was burned out.

Authorities searched a wooded section in the area in the belief that the robbers continued their flight on foot after their car failed.

The car used in the robbery was found abandoned along Hiscox Rd., about a mile south of Boardman, according to the State Highway Patrol.

Two cruiser patrolmen from the patrol post at Lisbon were assigned to the police net in the Boardman area.

Heiress Traced To Paris After Trip With Chauffeur

ANTWERP, Belgium (AP)—Missing heiress Gamble Benedict today was traced to Paris after a freighter trip from New York with a married, Romanian-born chauffeur.

New York police said the 18-year-old New York debutante sailed from New York Dec. 31 aboard the freighter Edga with Andre Porumbeanu, 35, onetime chauffeur-butler for Mrs. Arde Bulova, widow of the watch king.

The freighter arrived in Antwerp Saturday. Both Miss Benedict and Porumbeanu remained aboard Saturday night, sources in Antwerp said.

Sunday afternoon Miss Benedict boarded an express train which got to Paris late in the afternoon.

It could not be learned immediately whether she remained in the French capital. When they sailed from New York, she had listed Naples as her destination and Porumbeanu gave Paris as his, New York authorities said.

Police said they are closing the case since they are satisfied Miss Benedict voluntarily left her fashionable upper East Side home Dec. 27 after a society party. Friends had reported seeing her several times in New York since then.

Her grandmother, Katherine Geddes Benedict, who is under a physician's care, reported the girl missing. Friends said Mrs. Benedict, widow of Henry Harper Benedict, former president of the Remington Typewriter Co., had objected to the girl's seeing Porumbeanu, whom she met last summer at Mrs. Bulova's Long Island home.

Police said the break in the case came when an official of the Cosmopolitan Shipping Co. reported the couple had sailed on the Edga. The official said Miss Benedict and Porumbeanu occupied separate cabins during the 10-day crossing.

The Benedict family attorney, Robert Hoffman, said he might go to Europe to try to return Miss Benedict.

A friend of Porumbeanu, Miron Butariu, said Porumbeanu is the son of a Romanian colonel and is separated from his wife, who lives here. They have a daughter, Butariu said. Porumbeanu was last seen Dec. 30 when he checked out of a rooming house near Miss Benedict's home and told his landlady he was leaving to marry the girl.

Butariu said Porumbeanu enlisted in the U.S. Air Force and, after an honorable discharge, attended Columbia University on the GI bill. Later he held a job with the Standard Oil Co. Last summer Mrs. Bulova hired him as chauffeur-butler at her Southampton home.

Concern Begins To Mount For Safety Of Those On Outpost

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—The Air Force today stepped up plans to remove 20 men manning a scientific outpost on a crumbling ice floe in the Arctic Ocean.

The floe, known as Station Charley, was reduced to a fifth of its original size when two hugh chunks cracked off the ice pack Sunday night. The floe has been slowly disintegrating since Wednesday.

It had originally been planned to keep the men on the island until all scientific equipment had been removed. But officials at Ladd Air Force Base here said a flight to the station today would pick up four men.

Air Force officers would not comment but it was believed concern for the safety of the men on the floe is rising.

The latest ice disintegration tore off about 200 feet of runway, but the Air Force said the loss was not expected to affect aircraft landings or takeoffs. Another 100 feet of area also dropped off one side of the ice pack Sunday night. A 3,700-foot chunk broke off Saturday night.

The floe, originally two miles wide and four miles long, has crumbled to an area one mile wide and one mile and a fourth long.

Three of the four men to be evacuated by the first flight were identified as S-Sgt. Thomas A. Boger, Greensboro, N. C.; Airman 1-C Hilton H. Carter, Ft. Smith, Ark., and Airman 2-C Franklin D. Yates, Ypsilanti, Mich.

Judge Orders Jail Term For 'Drag Racers'

Two Wellsville service station attendants drew 3-day jail terms and fines of $50 and costs each today in Municpal Court after being nabbed Sunday afternoon on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd. while drag racing at 105 miles an hour.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff imposed the jail terms and fines on David L. Eaton, 323 Wells Ave., and Harvey A. McCauley, 428 Broadway, after warning both they stand to lose their licenses if cited into court on future violations.

State Highway Patrolman E. D. Wain caught the pair near West End after chasing them from the western end of Wellsville, where they lined up to start the race.

Wain said he started up the highway just as the race started.

Eaton and McCauley each pleaded guilty to the charges of reckless operation.

Eaton told the judge he has been married almost four years and has two young children. Learning that Eaton's wife was in the car during the race, Judge Chertoff said: "You certainly don't think much of her, do you?"

Noting that McCauley's license expires in 1961, the judge declared, "One more violation and you won't have a license any more. And it might be a good thing if you didn't."

In pronouncing sentence, Judge Chertoff said the three days in jail are to be served consecutively "and not at your leisure."

"Let this be a lesson to you and every other drag racer. The next time you may get the max-

Davis Wins Runoff For Governor

Peace And Harmony Goal, New Louisiana Head Says

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Ballad-singing Jimmie Davis, winner of Louisiana's Democratic runoff for governor, today sought to return this political topsy-turvy state to "peace and harmony."

The 58-year-old former governor said he would create a state sovereignty commission to preserve segregation. Negroes have pressed suits in three parishes (counties) to begin school integration.

"I've been all over the nation," said Davis, "and I'm convinced the Southland is the happiest place in the nation. I think right-thinking white people and right-thinking colored people believe that."

Davis also pledged to keep hands off an independent Legislature and promised he would not build a political machine in this state that remembers the web-like control of Huey P. Long.

A record turnout signaled the end of the Long era. The ticket of lame duck Gov. Earl K. Long, Huey's brother, was soundly whipped in the Dec. 5 primary.

Davis piled up a 71,000 vote lead over New Orleans Mayor deLesseps S. Morrison, seeking to become Louisiana's first Catholic governor since 1884. Davis, a Baptist, got 486,095 votes to Morri-

It Should Be Talkative Year On All Sides In Washington

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is the week, its first full week back on the job, when Congress gets down to work, more or less.

Congress went through a brief, self-conscious, hairshirt period in the 1940s when, astounded by all the committees it had, it cut out some. But it now has more committees and subcommittees than ever, more than 150 of them.

Since they usually try to justify their existence by finding something to do, in hearings of inquiries, they'll get busy. It takes time.

Congress doesn't really get rolling until President Eisenhower submits his spending plans, which he will soon do in his annual budget message.

Pretty nearly everything revolves around this since it is in this message that Eisenhower outlines how much he thinks his programs should cost.

Since the Democratic-run Congress usually has other ideas, this is a good start for a year-long fight.

But last week Eisenhower surprised Congress by tipping his hand in his State of the Union message.

He said his budget would call for spending almost 80 billion dollars, a record for peacetime.

Each year for years now Eisenhower has been submitting record-breaking budgets while calling on Congress to keep down spending.

He did that again this year. But this time he gave Congress a welcome surprise by revealing that while he expects spending—in the fiscal year beginning July 1 and ending June 30, 1961—to hit almost 80 billion dollars, he also expects government revenues to be so high there will be $4,200,000,000 left over.

Telling Congress that was like inviting it to spend the money. Congress may want to use that surplus, in part anyway, to pay for some programs Eisenhower didn't want or to pay more on some programs that he did want.

Whether Congress tries to defy Eisenhower, or just talks about trying it, is something which will unfold as the year unfolds.

If the Democrats run true to last year's form, when Eisenhower made them self-conscious by calling them spenders, they'll do more talking than doing.

And, since Eisenhower seems to have very modest goals himself for 1960, as appeared in his State of the Union message, this should be a very talkative year on all sides, although not necessarily an impressive one.

Since this is also an election year, of which both the Democrats and the Eisenhower administration are much aware, each side no doubt will try to look good at the expense of the other.

This means blaming the other guy for failing to do something which might have means more votes next November if it had been done.

If you feel slightly dizzy after reading this far, just wait till the year's over.

Brigitte Gives Birth To Son

PARIS (AP)—France's reigning movie queen, Brigitte Bardot, today gave birth to a 7 pound boy.

"We are naming him Nicolas Jacques," the proud father, film actor Jacques Charrier, beamingly told a news conference. "He has blue eyes and a strong tenor voice."

Miss Bardot and Charrier, both now 25 were married last June 18. Her previous marriage to film director Roger Vadim, who directed her rise to fame as one of the world's most popular sex symbols, was childless.

Charrier was at his wife's side when their son was born about 2:30 a.m. in their Paris apartment.

Dr. Louis Bonnet, who delivered the baby, said it was a beautiful boy with brown hair. It "cried lustily," he added.

The film beauty was reported to have undergone the delivery "very courageously." She was in labor about four hours.

Her romance with Charrier started when he appeared as her leading man in the movie "Babette Goes to War." At that time she was supposedly engaged to a crooning guitarist, Sacha Distel.

2 Boys Suffocate In Their 'Dugout'

WILLOUGHBY, Ohio (AP)—The bodies of two 10-year-old boys were found Sunday night in a dugout they had made in the sandy back yard of a home here. Police said the boys had suffocated.

Dead were James Martin and Robert Bradshaw, both of Willoughby.

The dugout, about four feet deep eight feet wide and 10 feet long, was behind the Martin home.

Frank Martin, 52, father of one of the victims, said the boys had been using it as a fort while playing "cowboys and indians."

Police were called to the dugout by James Lawton, whose son, James Jr., 14, discovered the bodies.

James and Robert had covered their fort with boards, leaving a small opening which they sealed with sheet metal.

Martin said that about two hours before the bodies were found, he was standing near the dugout without realizing the boys were in it. At the time, he said, he thought the boys had decided to fill up the hole and did not think it strange that it was covered.

A mattress and a pan of charcoal were found inside the dugout. Police said the boys apparently had lit a fire in the pan to keep warm and the flames consumed the oxygen in the dugout, causing the boys to suffocate.

Head-Shaving To Be Probed By South Korean Assembly

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The South Korean National Assembly decided today to make its own investigation of the recent head-shaving by American soldiers of two Korean prostitutes who entered an Army barracks during the night in search of business.

At the request of Rep. Chung Joon, an independent, the assembly resolved unanimously to have its committees on home affairs, foreign affairs and justice investigate the incident and report back.

Chung said any Korean trespassers caught in U. S. military compounds should be dealt with by Korean authorities, not privately by Americans. He also asked the government to warn Korean prostitutes not to approach military installations.

In an effort to discourage trespassing by prostitutes and reduce veneral disease in his company, Capt. John W. McEnery, 34, of Cheynne, Wyo., had ordered the shaving of any prostitutes caught in the company area.

The two women, Kim Soon Ae, 30, and Kin Chong Cha, 21, crawled through a hole in a barbed wire fence and were caught waking a soldier in the barracks. They were taken to the company headquarters and were shaved by 1st Sgt. Ora Curnutte, 30, of Chillicothe, Ohio, and Sgt. Harry Saunders, 37, of Kansas City, Mo.

The Army so far has taken no action against the company commander or the two sergeants.

The semi-government newspaper "Korean Republic", in its first editorial comment on the incident, today said: "Those who took punishment into their own hands were wrong," but "our own and the foreign press have been guilty of making a mountain out of a small issue—all for the sake of sensationalism, for appeal to prurient."

Eleven Billion Stuck In Our Craw

By crude arithmetic, based on an estimated population of 180 million Americans, the per capita stake in negotiations between the United States and Russia over 11 billion dollars in wartime aid is $61.11.

That is what Americans must pay. What they will get back, if anything, is a few cents on the dollar. The government already has said it would settle for 800 million, or about $4 per capita.

But in this case, it's really the principle that matters — not the money. Russia is the only holdout of the nations that received World War II lend-lease aid. This has been one of the sorest points in relations between the two countries.

The only concrete agreement made between President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev last September was to reopen negotiations on the lend-lease debt after an intermission of almost a decade. The United States never expected to be repaid in full. It did not expect that Russia or any other lend-lease beneficiary would repay in any realistic proportion to value received. But it did expect that countries it had helped out of its resources would recognize a moral obligation to make a settlement.

Russia has recognized no obligation whatever. It never even made an accounting for 84 merchant ships that should have been returned to the United States, despite the writeoff of 585 other naval craft furnished by the United States.

The negotiations now being reopened are a critical test of Russian intentions. It is about to be revealed whether or not there has been an actual change of heart in the Kremlin.

Confidence is built like a brick wall, one piece at a time. The United States will not be able to believe in Russian professions of good faith until it has seen proof of good faith.

When the matter was last discussed in 1951, Russia dismissed with contempt the U.S. proposal to settle the lend-lease account for 800 million dollars payable over a long term of years at a low rate of interest. In the meantime, Americans would continue to carry the debt by paying interest on it themselves; the debt was part of their own national debt.

Russian negotiators at that time hinted at a figure not to exceed 300 million dollars, which was so far from the U.S. figure that negotiations were broken off and never resumed.

If there is going to be any real improvement in relations between the United States and Russia, the first brick to be laid in place will have to be a settlement of Russia's lend-lease obligation.

Swastikas Are Warnings, Not Symptoms

No one can be sure of the next place a swastika may be painted. But everyone should be sure in advance of what it will mean if it appears.

It will not be a symptom of religious hatred spreading like wildfire through the people of the United States, if it appears in this country. It will not be a symptom of religious hatred even if it appears in East or West Germany, where the swastika is a ghastly reminder of Hitlerism.

That is what people are supposed to believe when they see these hooked crosses. It is assumed that most people will not think.

No one who thinks could be taken in by anything so palpably rigged and contrived. The trouble is that there aren't enough thinkers.

Most human beings can be propelled and panicked as easily as sheep can be thrown into confusion. Human behavior is often compared to the behavior of sheep for the best reason conceivable.

There is a close similarity between the way sheep run senselessly in first one direction, then another, set into motion by noises and gestures, and the way people can be manipulated by cynics who have mastered the shabby art of influencing "public opinion."

Hitler and a few thousand paranoiacs propelled and panicked Germany into wild excesses that will smear the good name of the German nation for thousands of years.

And for all those years it may take no more than the smearing of a swastika on a wall to revive panic and hysteria among the thoughtless. It goes without saying that the world's most ruthless propagandists —the ones who practice their art in the Kremlin— will use the swastika and every other device of religious hatred to propel and panic the human sheep that are their most reliable tools.

It is ridiculously easy.

With as few as a dozen hastily painted swastikas in the right places, the Western world has been thrown into a nervous fit in which religious hatred again seems plausible.

That's exactly the idea. All who are capable of understanding how these things are done should be on the alert. Swastikas are warnings, not symptoms.

The death of Albert Camus, Nobel prize-winning writer, has shocked France with the ghastly waste of a brilliant mind in a senseless automobile accident.

Camus was killed instantly when a high-powered sports car in which he was a passenger careened into a row of trees after a blowout. The speed of the car was estimated to have been 80 miles an hour.

Special poignancy was given to the accident by the obvious connection it formed with the philosophy that Camus adhered to in his own thinking. He was one of the group of French existentialists whose views have had profound impact on 20th century thinking.

Emile Henriot, a member of the French Academy, referred to the connection when he wrote that the writer's death "illustrates in a horrible way the vision that he had of an absurd universe, without explanation, incomprehensible and devoted to evil."

Camus had not been content, however, with that kind of unrelieved bleakness. He had said in his speech accepting the Nobel Prize in 1957: "Probably every generation sees itself as charged with remaking the world. Mine, however, knows that it will not remake the world. But its task is perhaps even greater, for it consists in keeping the world from destroying itself." He was 43 when he said this.

Within three years, he was to have been destroyed, himself, in a senseless auto accident on a straight highway because a tire blew out on a car traveling too fast for safety—and for years to come existentialists will argue that Albert Camus proved dramatically what he originally believed. It is an absurd universe when human beings are destroyed by their own mechanical servants.

Sen. Kennedy would lose the "my-hair-is-thinning" vote and drive the Bald Headed Club of America over to rivals but he has a TV personality, the glamor boy touch, the vigor, charm, color and general appeal to make him a "natural."

When a man has all the ability Kennedy has and can top it with a bumper hair crop, he has great assets.

A Ghost Walks

Dead Men Tell Tales In Union

By Victor Riesel

There is a candidate in Hoboken, N.J., for an important Teamster office on whom Hoffa's boys can always count never to talk back and never to change his position. He is dead.

Victor Riesel

He died on New Year's Day. But Brother Hoffa's friends are loyal. They won't remove him from the ticket. They insist on running him. And he probably will get more votes than his opponent on the reform slate.

The deceased, Paul Ciampi, whose heart failed him on the morning of Jan. 1, is running for trustee of New Jersey Teamster Local 560. Thus his spirit may be invoked to be the guardian of some 13,500 Teamsters on whom rests much of the rolling commerce of the East. The departed one is supported quite energetically by the local's chief, Anthony (Tony Pro) Provenzano, Brother Hoffa's own choice.

TONY PRO is a loyal man to his friends and the death of his running mate did not change Provenzano at all. He is, of course, slightly irritated over all this election fuss and doesn't quite see why the reformists had to insist on an Honest Ballot Assn. election Jan. 15. After all, there was a regular one about 40 years ago. What's with all this technicality?

Tony Pro is also slightly annoyed that his local was the first to be enjoined from holding a good old-fashioned slam-bang yea-nay, close-the - polls election under the Landrum-Griffin Act. Now he had to hire a hall to seat some 10,000 people and dispatch full election notices to 13,500 members.

It all went well for Tony anyway. He even began enjoying campaigning under the slogan of "Provenzano, Progress and Proven Leadership."

Then Ciampi died. The opposition claimed the post. Tony refused to name another candidate. His man could win, so why bother. Up to this moment the Honest Ballot Assn. has Ciampi on the ticket.

Now, man and boy, I've covered this beat for a while so I figured here I've got something unusual. Some candidates I've known were not as strong of mind as of muscle. But at least they were alive. So I thought I should go to the experts. Namely Congressmen Landrum and Griffin.

NONE OF US want to be unfair to the ticket of "Provenzano, Progress and Proven Leadership."

After all, throughout history the proven leaders of men have defended, to the death, their friends. So we searched the record to see if it was legal.

Rep. Robert P. Griffin told me: "Judging from what you tell me, apparently dead men do tell tales. At least that seems to be the way it is in the Teamsters. This is one of the most fantastic stories I've heard.

"It is true that in the law we state that 'every member in good standing shall be eligible to be a candidate and to hold office.' But this fellow hardly is standing.

"We do include a ban on convicts and Communists from holding office but frankly we did not think it was necessary to have a proviso covering dead men. Perhaps we should have. Old Teamsters do die — but obviously they don't fade away in that union.

"This is the kind of thing which mocks decent unionism. This is the kind of abuse which made it necessary to protect the rank-and-file and the public by law."

STRONG VIEWS soon came from Rep. Philip M. Landrum. He told me:

"Dignifying what appears to be a somewhat ridiculous situation, I would say that the new act required that elections be among members in good standing.

"The deceased party could hardly qualify. I would also say the McClellan committee revelations have shown that some Teamster officials treat union office and union funds as their personal estate. So Mr. Hoffa might invokve the new law's trusteeship provision and administer the estate of the deceased.

"That's ridiculous, of course, but the whole thing is. It just proves the contempt which some of these men have for honest unionism, the rank-and-file and the public. It shows why we need a law."

This probably won't disturb the "Provenzano, Progress and Proven Leadership" ticket, which says that it will beat the "amateurs" and "cruds" of the opposition. That's probably true. But it should make for a fascinating swearing-in cremony.

Down To Half Size

By Truman Twill

It's necessary to say a few words about the little automobile that has come to live at our house. There's a lesson in this miniaturized dimension in locomotion.

People want to talk about their little cars. They feel the way owners used to feel in the early years of the auto age when they came into possession of their first roadsters. They could hardly wait to test them out on the local hills so they could describe their performance. But there's more to it than the novelty of driving them.

This is scheduled to be a boom year in auto manufacturing, so there can be no offense in referring to the now freely admitted fact that small European cars are expecting to continue to do all right, too. They have found a place here that still is not being contested for by any American-made car.

The new U.S. compact models are not trying to compete with them, because already the manufacturers of the compacts are claiming that they are bigger and more commodious than the ones being made by rival manufacturers. That's going to be the story, at least for a while.

But ultra-small cars that run indefinitely on a tank of gasoline are going to go big in America. There aren't enough people now who can be attracted to them in the vastness of this broad land to be worth going all out for—but be patient.

I became a convert because the transportation problem in our family cannot be solved with less than two cars, and the other one's an all-American whopper. Every time I saw the monthly statement from the gas station, I got weak in the knees and began to think about a motorcycle for my individual transportation.

I needed something that was cheap to run, easy to drive and no trouble to park. In 30-odd years of getting back and forth to work, I'd never had anything that filled the bill.

I have something that fills it now, and as far as I can see I will be a satisfied customer for a long time to come. I could only wish for the sake of helping to create a favorable balance of trade that native suppliers had found it within their means to do for me what foreign suppliers did, largely because spenders in their countries jacked up the price of gasoline, oil and tires so high with punitive taxes that only the ultra-rich could afford to own full-sized cars.

In the two-car families that have sprung up all over our own sprawling country, one full-sized car is all most budgets will bear; two are too much. If taxes and other charges on automobiles, including inflated damage claims, continue to increase — and there's nothing in sight to stop them — even one behemoth with 200 horsepower, truck-sized tires and maintenance-consuming gadgets will be a white elephant.

This is pointed out to the native spenders with all proper respect for what they are trying to do, which is to keep everybody happy.

That has been the explanation on the lips of every civilization that has died — it was trying to be happy. But no one can be made happy by being bled to death, and that is what is happening in the automobile era. It is pushing millions of Americans to the curb, and they will begin to think of ways to protect themselves against too-high gas prices, too-high car prices, too-high accident claims and too-high maintenance and repair rates.

Note that people don't live in mansions any more because they can't afford either the original cost of the upkeep. You can't even give a mansion away.

Come to think about it, the little automobile that has come to live at our house is just the right size to go with the house, which is only a miniature, too.

Distrust Of Reds

By David Lawrence

U.S. Not Taken In By Soviet Promises

Looked at from an international viewpoint, the most striking thing about President Eisenhower's address to congress was the expression of a manifest distrust of the Soviet Union.

David Lawrence

Again and again the President threw doubt on the sincerity of the Khrushchev promises and showed a disinclination to place any trust in an agreement with the Soviet Union that might provide for disarmament. Speaking of "recent Soviet deportment," Mr. Eisenhower included many significant reservations, such as, "if these pronouncements be genuine" and, "whether this is to become an era of lasting promise remains to be tested by actions."

Again, the President warned the free nations of the world not to be "misled by pleasant promises until tested by performance." He stressed the need for "dependable agreements," and then assailed the farce in Geneva where so-called scientists on the Soviet side, who are really political tools, are meeting with truly scientific representatives of the free nations in an attempt to get an agreement on the suspension of nuclear tests.

The president said:

"Unfortunately, the closing statement from the Soviet scientists who met with our scientists at Geneva gives the clear impression that their conclusions have been politically guided."

As for disarmament negotiations, Mr. Eisenhower said the Soviets "have professed a readiness to negotiate seriously," but "they have not, however, made clear the plans they have, if any, for mutual inspection and verification — the essential condition for any extensive measure of disarmament."

THE WORDS "if any" convey a world of meaning. For they show that the President of the United States has not been taken in by all the Pollyanna talk and the honeyed phrases that characterized the recent visit of Khrushchev to America.

The United States still has a you've - got - to - show - me attitude. This is reassuring in view of the impression recently created that peace is assured and that international tensions will be removed by "a series of summit meetings."

The President wisely took occasion to let the Communist propagandandists know that their misuse of words isn't going to be ignored.

Mr. Eisenhower spoke of "a storm of semantic disorder in which old labels no longer faithfully describe" forms of government or economic systems.

He pointed out that police states call themselves "people's democracies" and that the "armed conquest of free peoples is called 'liberation.'"

He spoke of "such slippery slogans" as making difficult "the problem of communicating true faith, facts and beliefs."

He said that, to make clear "our peaceful intentions, our aspirations for a better world," we must use language" to enlighten the mind, not as the instrument of the studied innuendo and distorter of truth."

THERE RAN throughout the President's address a distrust of Soviet motives which cannot but impress the world that peace is still far from realized, though Mr. Eisenhower declares that, "we must strive to break the calamitous cycle of frustrations and crises which, if unchecked, could spiral into nuclear disaster — the ultimate insanity."

Viewed from a domestic standpoint, the President's address was a studied attempt to combat fears of inflation and to revive the strategy of a year ago for curbing expenditures in Congress.

By pointing to the prospect of a budget surplus of $4,200,000,000 in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1960, Mr. Eisenhower really challeneged the "spenders" in Congress.

He doesn't promise tax relief but calls for debt reduction first. Congress, however, may wind up spending most of the $4,200,000,000 surplus and avoiding tax relief altogether.

Certainly the President tried hard to give the impression that, so far as the administration is concerned, it will seek to keep nondefense spending down and will not materially increase appropriations on the military side.

Obviously all estimates of income made in January for an ensuing fiscal year can be wrong by a billion dollars or so but it's much more likely that there will be a surplus if Congress does hold down spending.

Where is the surplus coming from? Plainly the expectation is that the "boom" year of 1960 will bring an unprecedented flow of tax receipts to the Treasury.

The trend, however, is likely to be inflationary. Prices of steel will go up after the first wage increase takes effect next December.

Other industries will doubtless be faced now with bigger and bigger wage demands.

Considering the failure of the administration to get a noninflationary settlement of the steel strike, all professions of a pious interest in checking inflation today somehow have a hollow sound.

Democratic Dilemma

By Raymond Moley

Writers and teachers whose interest is in the complex art of politics can learn more in what happens in 1960 than they ever knew before. The presidency is the immense stake involved.

The course is criss-crossed with great natural hazards and is heavily trapped.

The players include some of the smartest and most experienced politicians of the generation. Every move, every word uttered must be well calculated.

Those whose comprehension of the subtle art of politics is merely cliches borrowed from others or surface impressions useful for dinner table or barroom conversation will leap to generalities. The sophisticated will creep with the utmost care.

Consider the import and possible consequences of Sen. John F. Kennedy's announcement.

This young man, whose official record is not impressive and will count heavily against him in delegates' and voters' final reckoning when compared with that of Nixon, his probable opponent, still will draw upon an unusual political heritage.

Through both mother and father he has the blood of the Fitzgeralds and the Kennedys—antecedents whose political exploits in Boston are historical. Politics is in his nature.

HIS FLAT REJECTION of any suggestion of a vice presidential nomination was a shrewd, calculated move to put the leaders of the Party machine on a difficult spot.

Much of their thinking has tended to reject him as a candidate, despite his popularity.

This is based upon a very practical consideration of experienced politicians who approach a hard contest. That consideration is that it is never wise in practical politics to assume an extra handicap when there is some way to avoid it.

In this case, those leaders realize that to nominate a Catholic will arouse imbedded prejudices against any member of that faith who aspires to public office. This extends from the presidency down to alderman in descending order of virulence.

The easy way to avoid this handicap and at the same time to pay a gesture to the great number of Catholics who vote the Democratic ticket seemed to be Kennedy's nomination for the vice presidency.

Now, if the Massachusetts senator means what he says, state leaders who will control the convention face the danger of the ire of Catholic voters who quite properly resent the suggestion that they are citizens of a lesser grade.

MANY LEADERS who recognize this hard fact will search the political horizon for another Catholic for vice president. There emerges a figure who otherwise would not be seriously considered at all Gov. Edmund "Pat" Brown of California, a Catholic who won his election in 1958 by approximately a million votes.

There is also Michael V. DiSalle governor of Ohio, also a Catholic. But Brown must be much more seriously considerd because of the probability that Nixon stands to be the Republican candidate and he is, like Brown, a citizen of a state which will cast a whopping vote in the Electoral College.

Turning from the more obvious alternatives to Kennedy for the presidential nomination— Humphrey, Stevenson, Johnson, and Symington—I would suggest another example rooted in religious consideration, of the fact that parties tend to ignore outstanding qualifications and generally select the second or third best for nomination.

I believe that the best qualified individual for the Democratic nomination, if Democrats are really seeking an able president, is Abraham Ribicoff, governor of Connecticut.

His immense success as an executive in his present office, his generally excellent judgment, his experience in Congress, the respect shown for him in that body by his colleagues, and the confidence in him shown by citizens of all shades of political and economic opinion mark him as exceptional.

Eleven Billion Stuck In Our Craw

By crude arithmetic, based on an estimated population of 180 million Americans, the per capita stake in negotiations between the United States and Russia over 11 billion dollars in wartime aid is $61.11.

That is what Americans must pay. What they will get back, if anything, is a few cents on the dollar. The government already has said it would settle for 800 million, or about $4 per capita.

But in this case, it's really the principle that matters — not the money. Russia is the only holdout of the nations that received World War II lend-lease aid. This has been one of the sorest points in relations between the two countries.

The only concrete agreement made between President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev last September was to reopen negotiations on the lend-lease debt after an intermission of almost a decade. The United States never expected to be repaid in full. It did not expect that Russia or any other lend-lease beneficiary would repay in any realistic proportion to value received. But it did expect that countries it had helped out of its resources would recognize a moral obligation to make a settlement.

Russia has recognized no obligation whatever. It never even made an accounting for 84 merchant ships that should have been returned to the United States, despite the writeoff of 585 other naval craft furnished by the United States.

The negotiations now being reopened are a critical test of Russian intentions. It is about to be revealed whether or not there has been an actual change of heart in the Kremlin.

Confidence is built like a brick wall, one piece at a time. The United States will not be able to believe in Russian professions of good faith until it has seen proof of good faith.

When the matter was last discussed in 1951, Russia dismissed with contempt the U.S. proposal to settle the lend-lease account for 800 million dollars payable over a long term of years at a low rate of interest. In the meantime, Americans would continue to carry the debt by paying interest on it themselves; the debt was part of their own national debt.

Russian negotiators at that time hinted at a figure not to exceed 300 million dollars, which was so far from the U.S. figure that negotiations were broken off and never resumed.

If there is going to be any real improvement in relations between the United States and Russia, the first brick to be laid in place will have to be a settlement of Russia's lend-lease obligation.

Swastikas Are Warnings, Not Symptoms

No one can be sure of the next place a swastika may be painted. But everyone should be sure in advance of what it will mean if it appears.

It will not be a symptom of religious hatred spreading like wildfire through the people of the United States, if it appears in this country. It will not be a symptom of religious hatred even if it appears in East or West Germany, where the swastika is a ghastly reminder of Hitlerism.

That is what people are supposed to believe when they see these hooked crosses. It is assumed that most people will not think.

No one who thinks could be taken in by anything so palpably rigged and contrived. The trouble is that there aren't enough thinkers.

TONY PRO is a loyal man to his friends and the death of his running mate did not change Provenzano at all. He is, of course, slightly irritated over all this election fuss and doesn't quite see why the reformists had to insist on an Honest Ballot Assn. election Jan. 15. After all, there was a regular one about 40 years ago. What's with all this technicality?

Tony Pro is also slightly annoyed that his local was the first to be enjoined from holding a good old-fashioned slam-bang yea-nay, close-the - polls election under the Landrum-Griffin Act. Now he had to hire a hall to seat some 10,000 people and dispatch full election notices to 13,500 members.

It all went well for Tony anyway. He even began enjoying campaigning under the slogan of "Provenzano, Progress and Proven Leadership."

Then Ciampi died. The opposition claimed the post. Tony refused to name another candidate. His man could win, so why bother. Up to this moment the Honest Ballot Assn. has Ciampi on the ticket.

Now, man and boy, I've covered this beat for a while so I figured here I've got something unusual. Some candidates I've known were not as strong of mind as of muscle. But at least they were alive. So I thought I should go to the experts. Namely Congressmen Landrum and Griffin.

NONE OF US want to be unfair to the ticket of "Provenzano, Progress and Proven Leadership."

After all, throughout history the proven leaders of men have defended, to the death, their friends. So we searched the record to see if it was legal.

Rep. Robert P. Griffin told me: "Judging from what you tell me, apparently dead men do tell tales. At least that seems to be the way it is in the Teamsters. This is one of the most fantastic stories I've heard.

"It is true that in the law we state that 'every member in good standing shall be eligible to be a candidate and to hold office.' But this fellow hardly is standing.

"We do include a ban on convicts and Communists from holding office but frankly we did not think it was necessary to have a proviso covering dead men. Perhaps we should have. Old Teamsters do die — but obviously they don't fade away in that union.

"This is the kind of thing which mocks decent unionism. This is the kind of abuse which made it necessary to protect the rank-and-file and the public by law."

STRONG VIEWS soon came from Rep. Philip M. Landrum. He told me:

"Dignifying what appears to be a somewhat ridiculous situation, I would say that the new act required that elections be among members in good standing.

"The deceased party could hardly qualify. I would also say the McClellan committee revelations have shown that some Teamster officials treat union office and union funds as their personal estate. So Mr. Hoffa might invokve the new law's trusteeship provision and administer the estate of the deceased.

"That's ridiculous, of course, but the whole thing is. It just proves the contempt which some of these men have for honest unionism, the rank-and-file and the public. It shows why we need a law."

This probably won't disturb the "Provenzano, Progress and Proven Leadership" ticket, which says that it will beat the "amateurs" and "cruds" of the opposition. That's probably true. But it should make for a fascinating swearing-in cremony.

Down To Half Size

By Truman Twill

It's necessary to say a few words about the little automobile that has come to live at our house. There's a lesson in this miniaturized dimension in locomotion.

People want to talk about their little cars. They feel the way owners used to feel in the early years of the auto age when they came into possession of their first roadsters. They could hardly wait to test them out on the local hills so they could describe their performance. But there's more to it than the novelty of driving them.

This is scheduled to be a boom year in auto manufacturing, so there can be no offense in referring to the now freely admitted fact that small European cars are expecting to continue to do all right, too. They have found a place here that still is not being contested for by any American-made car.

The new U.S. compact models are not trying to compete with them, because already the manufacturers of the compacts are claiming that they are bigger and more commodious than the ones being made by rival manufacturers. That's going to be the story, at least for a while.

But ultra-small cars that run indefinitely on a tank of gasoline are going to go big in America. There aren't enough people now who can be attracted to them in the vastness of this broad land to be worth going all out for—but be patient.

I became a convert because the transportation problem in our family cannot be solved with less than two cars, and the other one's an all-American whopper. Every time I saw the monthly statement from the gas station, I got weak in the knees and began to think about a motorcycle for my individual transportation.

I needed something that was cheap to run, easy to drive and no trouble to park. In 30-odd years of getting back and forth to work, I'd never had anything that filled the bill.

I have something that fills it now, and as far as I can see I will be a satisfied customer for a long time to come. I could only wish for the sake of helping to create a favorable balance of trade that native suppliers had found it within their means to do for me what foreign suppliers did, largely because spenders in their countries jacked up the price of gasoline, oil and tires so high with punitive taxes that only the ultra-rich could afford to own full-sized cars.

In the two-car families that have sprung up all over our own sprawling country, one full-sized car is all most budgets will bear; two are too much. If taxes and other charges on automobiles, including inflated damage claims, continue to increase — and there's nothing in sight to stop them — even one behemoth with 200 horsepower, truck-sized tires and maintenance-consuming gadgets will be a white elephant.

This is pointed out to the native spenders with all proper respect for what they are trying to do, which is to keep everybody happy.

That has been the explanation on the lips of every civilization that has died — it was trying to be happy. But no one can be made happy by being bled to death, and that is what is happening in the automobile era. It is pushing millions of Americans to the curb, and they will begin to think of ways to protect themselves against too-high gas prices, too-high car prices, too-high accident claims and too-high maintenance and repair rates.

Note that people don't live in mansions any more because they can't afford either the original cost of the upkeep. You can't even give a mansion away.

Come to think about it, the little automobile that has come to live at our house is just the right size to go with the house, which is only a miniature, too.

Distrust Of Reds

By David Lawrence

U.S. Not Taken In By Soviet Promises

Looked at from an international viewpoint, the most striking thing about President Eisenhower's address to congress was the expression of a manifest distrust of the Soviet Union.

David Lawrence

Again and again the President threw doubt on the sincerity of the Khrushchev promises and showed a disinclination to place any trust in an agreement with the Soviet Union that might provide for disarmament. Speaking of "recent Soviet deportment," Mr. Eisenhower included many significant reservations, such as, "if these pronouncements be genuine" and, "whether this is to become an era of lasting promise remains to be tested by actions."

Again, the President warned the free nations of the world not to be "misled by pleasant promises until tested by performance." He stressed the need for "dependable agreements," and then assailed the farce in Geneva where so-called scientists on the Soviet side, who are really political tools, are meeting with truly scientific representatives of the free nations in an attempt to get an agreement on the suspension of nuclear tests.

The president said:

"Unfortunately, the closing statement from the Soviet scientists who met with our scientists at Geneva gives the clear impression that their conclusions have been politically guided."

As for disarmament negotiations, Mr. Eisenhower said the Soviets "have professed a readiness to negotiate seriously," but "they have not, however, made clear the plans they have, if any, for mutual inspection and verification — the essential condition for any extensive measure of disarmament."

THE WORDS "if any" convey a world of meaning. For they show that the President of the United States has not been taken in by all the Pollyanna talk and the honeyed phrases that characterized the recent visit of Khrushchev to America.

The United States still has a you've - got - to - show - me attitude. This is reassuring in view of the impression recently created that peace is assured and that international tensions will be removed by "a series of summit meetings."

The President wisely took occasion to let the Communist propagandandists know that their misuse of words isn't going to be ignored.

Mr. Eisenhower spoke of "a storm of semantic disorder in which old labels no longer faithfully describe" forms of government or economic systems.

He pointed out that police states call themselves "people's democracies" and that the "armed conquest of free peoples is called 'liberation.'"

He spoke of "such slippery slogans" as making difficult "the problem of communicating true faith, facts and beliefs."

He said that, to make clear "our peaceful intentions, our aspirations for a better world," we must use language" to enlighten the mind, not as the instrument of the studied innuendo and distorter of truth."

THERE RAN throughout the President's address a distrust of Soviet motives which cannot but impress the world that peace is still far from realized, though Mr. Eisenhower declares that, "we must strive to break the calamitous cycle of frustrations and crises which, if unchecked, could spiral into nuclear disaster — the ultimate insanity."

Viewed from a domestic standpoint, the President's address was a studied attempt to combat fears of inflation and to revive the strategy of a year ago for curbing expenditures in Congress.

By pointing to the prospect of a budget surplus of $4,200,000,000 in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1960, Mr. Eisenhower really challeneged the "spenders" in Congress.

He doesn't promise tax relief but calls for debt reduction first. Congress, however, may wind up spending most of the $4,200,000,000 surplus and avoiding tax relief altogether.

Certainly the President tried hard to give the impression that, so far as the administration is concerned, it will seek to keep nondefense spending down and will not materially increase appropriations on the military side.

Obviously all estimates of income made in January for an ensuing fiscal year can be wrong by a billion dollars or so but it's much more likely that there will be a surplus if Congress does hold down spending.

Where is the surplus coming from? Plainly the expectation is that the "boom" year of 1960 will bring an unprecedented flow of tax receipts to the Treasury.

The trend, however, is likely to be inflationary. Prices of steel will go up after the first wage increase takes effect next December.

Other industries will doubtless be faced now with bigger and bigger wage demands.

Considering the failure of the administration to get a noninflationary settlement of the steel strike, all professions of a pious interest in checking inflation today somehow have a hollow sound.

Democratic Dilemma

By Raymond Moley

Writers and teachers whose interest is in the complex art of politics can learn more in what happens in 1960 than they ever knew before. The presidency is the immense stake involved.

The players include some of the smartest and most experienced politicians of the generation. Every move, every word uttered must be well calculated.

Those whose comprehension of the subtle art of politics is merely cliches borrowed from others or surface impressions useful for dinner table or barroom conversation will leap to generalities. The sophisticated will creep with the utmost care.

Consider the import and possible consequences of Sen. John F. Kennedy's announcement.

This young man, whose official record is not impressive and will count heavily against him in delegates' and voters' final reckoning when compared with that of Nixon, his probable opponent, still will draw upon an unusual political heritage.

Through both mother and father he has the blood of the Fitzgeralds and the Kennedys—antecedents whose political exploits in Boston are historical. Politics is in his nature.

HIS FLAT REJECTION of any suggestion of a vice presidential nomination was a shrewd, calculated move to put the leaders of the Party machine on a difficult spot.

Much of their thinking has tended to reject him as a candidate, despite his popularity.

This is based upon a very practical consideration of experienced politicians who approach a hard contest. That consideration is that it is never wise in practical politics to assume an extra handicap when there is some way to avoid it.

In this case, those leaders realize that to nominate a Catholic will arouse imbedded prejudices against any member of that faith who aspires to public office. This extends from the presidency down to alderman in descending order of virulence.

The easy way to avoid this handicap and at the same time to pay a gesture to the great number of Catholics who vote the Democratic ticket seemed to be Kennedy's nomination for the vice presidency.

Now, if the Massachusetts senator means what he says, state leaders who will control the convention face the danger of the ire of Catholic voters who quite properly resent the suggestion that they are citizens of a lesser grade.

MANY LEADERS who recognize this hard fact will search the political horizon for another Catholic for vice president. There emerges a figure who otherwise would not be seriously considered at all Gov. Edmund "Pat" Brown of California, a Catholic who won his election in 1958 by approximately a million votes.

There is also Michael V. DiSalle governor of Ohio, also a Catholic. But Brown must be much more seriously considerd because of the probability that Nixon stands to be the Republican candidate and he is, like Brown, a citizen of a state which will cast a whopping vote in the Electoral College.

Turning from the more obvious alternatives to Kennedy for the presidential nomination— Humphrey, Stevenson, Johnson, and Symington—I would suggest another example rooted in religious consideration, of the fact that parties tend to ignore outstanding qualifications and generally select the second or third best for nomination.

I believe that the best qualified individual for the Democratic nomination, if Democrats are really seeking an able president, is Abraham Ribicoff, governor of Connecticut.

His immense success as an executive in his present office, his generally excellent judgment, his experience in Congress, the respect shown for him in that body by his colleagues, and the confidence in him shown by citizens of all shades of political and economic opinion mark him as exceptional.

Mullen Slates Contract Talk

James Mullen of East Liverpool, United Steelworkers Union representative, said today he will leave Tuesday for Washington, to work out basic contract details with the Crucible Steel Co. of America for two union locals of the company's Midland Works.

A contract similar to that signed by Big Steel last Monday was signed between the three Crucible locals, including Local 1212, and the company Friday about 10 p.m., Mullen said.

At the signing were David McDonald, union president, Howard Hague, vice president, and I. W. Abel, secretary, Mullen said. Van Viot, Crucible's vice president in charge of industrial relations, signed for the company.

The union's wage policy committee approved the contract, which Mullen and Joe D'Alesio, president of 1212, said was "very satisfactory." Officers of the Midland unions attended.

The two locals for which details must be worked out include Local 5047 of Crucible's Titanium Division and Local 3177 of Crucible's clerical workers.

Mullen said that he plans to return next weekend. A membership meeting to explain the new contracts may be held next week.

Details of the contract signed Friday evening are expected to be announced soon by the company. Local 1212 has about 6,100 members and 5047 and 3177 have about 300 each.

A hearing for Daniel Samuel Germanovich, 466 Mulberry St., charged with driving with fictitious plates, was continued until 10 a. m. Thursday when the East End youth said he wanted to retain counsel.

Germanovich was cited at 5:33 p. m. Sunday on Pennsylvania Ave. Police said he owns a 1953 Ford and bought a 1953 Oldsmobile, keeping both cars.

The officers said Germanovich obtained a 10-day temporary plate for the Oldsmobile on Dec. 29 and it expired on Jan. 8. He then switched the license from the Ford to the other car, they explained.

imum of $500 and 6 months in jail," he warned. "Drag racing in this vicinity is going to stop," he said.

A hearing for Daniel Samuel Germanovich, 466 Mulberry St., charged with driving with fictitious plates, was continued until 10 a. m. Thursday when the East End youth said he wanted to retain counsel.

Germanovich was cited at 5:33 p. m. Sunday on Pennsylvania Ave. Police said he owns a 1953 Ford and bought a 1953 Oldsmobile, keeping both cars.

The officers said Germanovich obtained a 10-day temporary plate for the Oldsmobile on Dec. 29 and it expired on Jan. 8. He then switched the license from the Ford to the other car, they explained.

There's nothing like a new car—and no new car like a Chevrolet. This is the Impala Sport Coupe!

GO '60 GO CHEVY!

NOW- THE CAR THAT STARTS THE SIXTIES WITH SO MUCH THAT'S NEW, SO MUCH THAT'S DIFFERENT ...AND SETS THE PACE WITH LOWER PRICES!

Chevrolet speaks of the Sixties like no other car—with a broad accent on spaciousness, stirring new concepts in styling and strong emphasis on spirit and thrift.

Step inside this superlative '60 and look at the worlds of room around you: head room, hip room, shoulder-squaring room. Note how Chevrolet's engineers have further flattened and narrowed the transmission tunnel to give the middle man more foot room. Chevrolet's greater roominess is inside where you want it—not outside in useless body overhang.

You'll find economy teamed with performance in a new standard V8, engineered to deliver up to 10% more miles for every gallon, or the strapping Hi-Thrift 6.

And riding comfort in the new one is a never-ending treat, thanks to Full Coil spring suspension. There are also thicker, newly designed body mounts that filter noise and vibration to the vanishing point, more rigid frame and many other engineering advances.

But you'll have to drive the Sixty sizzler yourself—that's the clincher.

Why not see your Chevrolet dealer now—for a drive and the happy details on Chevy's new lower prices.

land, the fireman on the wrecked train, who died in the locomotive.

George P. Rummel, 55, of Indianapolis, and Kenneth Hale, 42, of Route 1, Rosedale, Ind., both Pennsylvania Railroad conductors en route to a meeting in Cleveland.

Audrey G. Cox, 64, of Pt. Paris, Ohio, was dear on arrival at Allen Memorial Hospital in Oberlin.

Allen Memorial Hospital at Oberlin, which received most of the injured, said it had treated and released 33 persons and admitted 19. It is 10 miles from the wreck scene.

Other injured were sent to hospitals in Elyria, Norwalk, Medina and Lodi.

A New York Central spokesman said the carrier's investigators had not determined what caused the wreck. He said the Southwest Limited moved at a "pretty good clip" through that area.

The three-unit diesel flipped on its side, and the mail car, which was unoccupied, straddled the tracks crosswise behind it. The combination baggage-coach came to rest sideways against the mail car, and the first coach mashed into its middle.

Two other coaches and three Pullmans that followed were derailed. Only the last car, a diner, remained on the tracks.

Margaret Taylor, an East Cleveland housewife and former newspaperwoman, was on the third coach. She said there was "a terrific jolt and baggage started falling all over the place."

"Almost everyone was real scared, and some had bruises. Then it seemed about two weeks until we all got out."

Ike Will Brief Both Parties On His Tour

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite disagreement whether they should, top congressional Democrats join Republicans at the White House today for a bipartisan briefing by President Eisenhower on his 11-nation good-will journey.

Invited to the late afternoon meeting were leaders of the Senate and House, and chairmen and senior members of the Armed Services, Foreign Relations and Appropriations committees.

There were reliable reports that some Democrats were less than enthusiastic about accepting the President's invitation. Some said in advance they thought the meeting would be little more than a travelog.

There also was evident feeling on the part of at least two influential party members that they were being asked to lend Democratic approval to an Eisenhower excursion in personal diplomacy which the Republicans are certain to emphasize in the presidential campaign.

Ike Will Brief Both Parties On His Tour

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite disagreement whether they should, top congressional Democrats join Republicans at the White House today for a bipartisan briefing by President Eisenhower on his 11-nation good-will journey.

Invited to the late afternoon meeting were leaders of the Senate and House, and chairmen and senior members of the Armed Services, Foreign Relations and Appropriations committees.

There were reliable reports that some Democrats were less than enthusiastic about accepting the President's invitation. Some said in advance they thought the meeting would be little more than a travelog.

There also was evident feeling on the part of at least two influential party members that they were being asked to lend Democratic approval to an Eisenhower excursion in personal diplomacy which the Republicans are certain to emphasize in the presidential campaign.

Returns To His Desk

ROME (AP) — President Giovanni Gronchi of Italy returned to his office today after a week-long attack of influenza that forced him to postpone a state visit to Moscow.

George P. Rummel, 55, of Indianapolis, and Kenneth Hale, 42, of Route 1, Rosedale, Ind., both Pennsylvania Railroad conductors en route to a meeting in Cleveland.

Audrey G. Cox, 64, of Pt. Paris, Ohio, was dear on arrival at Allen Memorial Hospital in Oberlin.

Allen Memorial Hospital at Oberlin, which received most of the injured, said it had treated and released 33 persons and admitted 19. It is 10 miles from the wreck scene.

Other injured were sent to hospitals in Elyria, Norwalk, Medina and Lodi.

A New York Central spokesman said the carrier's investigators had not determined what caused the wreck. He said the Southwest Limited moved at a "pretty good clip" through that area.

The three-unit diesel flipped on its side, and the mail car, which was unoccupied, straddled the tracks crosswise behind it. The combination baggage-coach came to rest sideways against the mail car, and the first coach mashed into its middle.

Two other coaches and three Pullmans that followed were derailed. Only the last car, a diner, remained on the tracks.

Margaret Taylor, an East Cleveland housewife and former newspaperwoman, was on the third coach. She said there was "a terrific jolt and baggage started falling all over the place."

"Almost everyone was real scared, and some had bruises. Then it seemed about two weeks until we all got out."

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Morale Plug Helps When Pounds Stick

If the pounds play hard to get off — this Monday is the psychological time for a morale booster. Regardless of what the pointer on the scales indicates, if you have cut calories below your requirements, you have been using up fat.

By Ida Jean Kain

However, due to the bugaboo, water retention, you may not weigh less. At this stage of the diet, weight loss has a wide-up-and-down swing which varies with the individual. On the same diet, one overweight may lose a gratifying number of pounds, 3 to 4 the first week, while another loses nary a pound in twice the time. Worse, some dieters actually appear to gain.

Here are the facts: When calories are cut, body fat is called upon to make up this deficit. Fat is stored in the body in individual cells. As the fat is used, the cell membranes may become distended with water.

WATER WEIGHS more than the fat it has displaced. Be assured, the water balance always adjusts—and when water is released there will be an abrupt and gratifying drop in weight.

Be prepared for recurrent water swings. After you have lost part of the soft, easy-to-lose fat, you will strike a plateau. It's these plateaus that discourage dieters. You'll think you will never resume reducing! Stay with the diet.

To keep up your morale, carry on with regular exercise and measure your progress with the tape measure. You can slim down inches with or without losing poundage.

When you lose fast at first, do not expect to continue at this brisk clip. The first loss was partly water. From this point on you'll be losing more slowly, but the loss will all be fat. As long as you are changing your food pattern you are making progress.

By the way, water drinking has nothing to do with water retention. Except at mealtimes, drink all the water you wish. The rule with meals is one cup of liquid. Sipping ice water throughout the meal is a mistake for this washes off the taste buds and reactivates appetite.

CHOICE DIET

Choice of fresh grapefruit (½ small) or juice, ½ cup; crisp bacon, 2 thin strips or 2 slices Canadian style; toast, 2 thin slices; jelly, 1 tsp. (rounded), and coffee, black.

Keep In Trim

Morale Plug Helps When Pounds Stick

If the pounds play hard to get off — this Monday is the psychological time for a morale booster. Regardless of what the pointer on the scales indicates, if you have cut calories below your requirements, you have been using up fat.

By Ida Jean Kain

However, due to the bugaboo, water retention, you may not weigh less. At this stage of the diet, weight loss has a wide-up-and-down swing which varies with the individual. On the same diet, one overweight may lose a gratifying number of pounds, 3 to 4 the first week, while another loses nary a pound in twice the time. Worse, some dieters actually appear to gain.

Here are the facts: When calories are cut, body fat is called upon to make up this deficit. Fat is stored in the body in individual cells. As the fat is used, the cell membranes may become distended with water.

WATER WEIGHS more than the fat it has displaced. Be assured, the water balance always adjusts—and when water is released there will be an abrupt and gratifying drop in weight.

Be prepared for recurrent water swings. After you have lost part of the soft, easy-to-lose fat, you will strike a plateau. It's these plateaus that discourage dieters. You'll think you will never resume reducing! Stay with the diet.

To keep up your morale, carry on with regular exercise and measure your progress with the tape measure. You can slim down inches with or without losing poundage.

When you lose fast at first, do not expect to continue at this brisk clip. The first loss was partly water. From this point on you'll be losing more slowly, but the loss will all be fat. As long as you are changing your food pattern you are making progress.

By the way, water drinking has nothing to do with water retention. Except at mealtimes, drink all the water you wish. The rule with meals is one cup of liquid. Sipping ice water throughout the meal is a mistake for this washes off the taste buds and reactivates appetite.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I would like to send an orchid to the person who signed her letter "Seven Leagues Under." It's high time someone had the nerve to rebel against being entertained in the basement instead of upstairs where they have the good furniture and rugs.

In the last few years I've spent so many evenings in damp cellars that I'm beginning to look like a rat.

I hope "Seven Leagues Under's" letter will start a trend toward living in living rooms and dining in dining rooms. Why have a lovely home if you're going to drag friends downstairs to view the week's wash, garden tools, the gas meter and the oil burner? — DOWN WITH THE UNDERGROUND.

Dear Down: Thanks for your comments. I heard many voices from below — screaming to be let out of the cellars. The following letters, however, are "against" me.

Back To Basement

Dear Ann: Why don't you mind your own business? That letter in your column signed "Seven Leagues Under" cost me $2,200. I just spent that amount to fix up a recreation room in the basement. My wife read your remarks and said, "Ann Landers is right. The rec room will be okay for the kids and their friends, but WE aren't going to entertain our guests down there."

Why don't you stick to love problems? You give me a pain in the neck. — TAPPED OUT.

Cellar Good Enough

Dear Ann: Both you and "Seven Leagues Under" are crazy as loons. I say the coal hole is good enough for most people.

I used to be one of those stupid hostesses who entertained in my beautiful living room but no more, thank you.

Our furniture, drapes and rugs were brand new in 1952. We sank a fortune into our home and bought the very best of everything. Inside of three years it looked like second-hand junk.

Some drunk burned a hole the length of a cigar on top of the TV. A 300-pound woman sat in my grandmother's antique needlepoint chair and smashed it to pieces.

The wallpaper had beer stains and greasy spots from oily heads. Ashes, pretzels, potato chips and cheese were mashed into the carpeting. My knickknacks were knocked off the shelves and my crystal lamp was turned over. People put out their cigarettes in the potted ivy plants.

If Eleanor Roosevelt or the president of Harvard came to town I might invite them into my living room. But for the slobs that we go around with, the cellar is good enough. — MRS. HAD IT.

Loves Coal Hole

Dear Ann: I'm one of those low-brows who frequently entertains in the "coal hole" and I'm thankful I have such a place.

My husband plays poker with a bunch of baboons who don't have sense enough to use an ash tray. The old table down there has three dozen burned spots.

My sisters have a total of 14 kids who walk on coffee tables and get gum and candy on furniture and drapes. Even the rumpus room junk is too good for them. They should be in a cage with straw on the floor.

Yes, we have a lovely living room but we have sense enough not to let certain people in it. Tell "Seven Leagues Under" not to be so sensitive. Maybe he belongs down there. — NO DOPE.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Lack Of Restraint Causes Delinquency

For more than 25 years I have maintained that the largest single cause of increasing juvenile delinquency has been lack of parental restraint of youngsters in the nursery, thanks to the long-prevailing theory of restraints-to-the-winds in early childhood. Although this theory has lately weakened, its practice and its inevitable results, when the child is over 8 or 10, haven't yet reached their summit. Many a column I have devoted to entreating parents to teach tots the meaning of "NO", said just once in a quiet tone, if they wished their children to stay out of the growing army of teen-age delinquents.

By Garry Meyers

THERE'S ANOTHER good reason: the child himself might be happier as he grows older and the parents might be happier living with him. The child has the right to enjoy life in the family and his parents also have the same right.

Ever so many parents in recent months have been writing about how awful it is to try to guide and live daily with a son or daughter, 9, 12 or 14, who won't mind them at all.

"I might as well shout at the moon," a mother writes, "as to command him to do or not to do something."

Says another mother: "If I attempted to punish him, he would just laugh at me."

In some letters, the mother says: "At this rate I'll go insane."

Now I just don't know how to answer these mothers. A quick, good trouncing might work in a few cases, if the mother were able to do it. But in most cases she wouldn't be able.

BESIDES ONE can't be sure she could make herself emotionally fit to do it effectively, or at a time when the child would be emotionally fit to profit from it.

Any mother who has lost her authority over a child, 9, 10 or 12, has been losing this authority for years or has never really exercised it well. So about all I can safely advise is to do the best you can. Put your emphasis on better self-management, build on his good traits and ways and make yourself the kind of person he will like to live with.

My constant hope is that other parents of babies and little children will take warning and make sure these youngsters are adequately restrained in a family atmosphere of love and understanding, not hesitating to use the bare hand on a safe place when necessary.

My bulletins, "Love and Restraint" and "How Juvenile Delinquency Can Be Curbed," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Louisiana

son's 414,258 with returns in from all but three of 2,109 precincts. His decisive bulge carried Davis' entire ticket to victory.

Farmer, businessman and teacher, Davis rose in the American political tradition. He was a sharecropper's son, one of 11 children reared in Jackson Parish in north Louisiana's red hill country.

It was the overwhelming Davis note in the predominately Protestant north and central parish that swept him to victory. Equally important was that Davis ran close behind in Morrison territory — the southern parishes and in New Orleans.

Davis picks up the reins of office May 10 from Gov. Long. He must defeat Republican nominee Francis Grevemberg and States Rights candidate Kent Courtney in the April 19 general election, but his victory is assured in this one-party state.

His subject will be "Prevention as a Science In Occupational Medicine."

Church Meter Taken

LISBON — Fr. William H. Homan reported to police that an electric meter was stolen at the St. George Parish house about 8:20 Saturday night. He fixed the time by the fact the clocks stopped in the hall. Ohio Edison employes replaced the meter Sunday in time for a meeting.

Mitchell Airs Confidence In Steel Accord

DETROIT (AP)—The steel wage settlement is in line with others negotiated this year and cannot set off a wage spiral with highly inflationary effects, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said today.

And there will be no steel price increases for some time to come if management and labor try to increase the rate of steel productivity, Mitchell added. He said he was sure both sides would make such an effort.

Mitchell's comments were made in an address prepared for the Economic Club of Detroit.

Mitchell, credited with playing a major role in last week's settlement of the 116-day steel strike, also said there may never again be a major steel strike in this country.

"With good will and good sense, and with awareness that an economic institution like a steel corporation or a labor union must serve the public interest as fully as its own interests, it could be possible—on the basis of this settlement — that the United States will have seen its last major steel strike," Mitchell said.

Mitchell said that in the new settlement the steel companies and the United Steelworkers Union have cut the postwar wage increase trend by half. He quoted Roger Blough, chairman of the board of U.S. Steel, as saying the average annual increase in hourly employment costs under the new terms will be 3½ to 3¾ per cent compared with other postwar settlements in which the increase averaged about 8 per cent.

Mitchell said some news stories on the settlement created misunderstanding. He said they did not take into account the fact that the steel settlement has been described in terms of total employment costs, while other major recent settlements have been described in terms of wages and benefits to workers.

Employment costs also include such items as Social Security and unemployment compensation taxes paid by employers on the basis of their payrolls.

"Thus," Mitchell said, "to say that the reported steel package of 39 cents is comparable to the reported aluminum package of 28.2 cents is not only untrue but meaningless. The steel package figure describes total employment costs to the companies; the other is a description only of the wages and benefits received by employes."

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I would like to send an orchid to the person who signed her letter "Seven Leagues Under." It's high time someone had the nerve to rebel against being entertained in the basement instead of upstairs where they have the good furniture and rugs.

In the last few years I've spent so many evenings in damp cellars that I'm beginning to look like a rat.

I hope "Seven Leagues Under's" letter will start a trend toward living in living rooms and dining in dining rooms. Why have a lovely home if you're going to drag friends downstairs to view the week's wash, garden tools, the gas meter and the oil burner? — DOWN WITH THE UNDERGROUND.

Dear Down: Thanks for your comments. I heard many voices from below — screaming to be let out of the cellars. The following letters, however, are "against" me.

Back To Basement

Dear Ann: Why don't you mind your own business? That letter in your column signed "Seven Leagues Under" cost me $2,200. I just spent that amount to fix up a recreation room in the basement.

My wife read your remarks and said, "Ann Landers is right. The rec room will be okay for the kids and their friends, but WE aren't going to entertain our guests down there."

Why don't you stick to love problems? You give me a pain in the neck. — TAPPED OUT.

Cellar Good Enough

Dear Ann: Both you and "Seven Leagues Under" are crazy as loons. I say the coal hole is good enough for most people.

I used to be one of those stupid hostesses who entertained in my beautiful living room but no more, thank you.

Our furniture, drapes and rugs were brand new in 1952. We sank a fortune into our home and bought the very best of everything. Inside of three years it looked like second-hand junk.

Some drunk burned a hole the length of a cigar on top of the TV. A 300-pound woman sat in my grandmother's antique needlepoint chair and smashed it to pieces.

The wallpaper had beer stains and greasy spots from oily heads. Ashes, pretzels, potato chips and cheese were mashed into the carpeting. My knickknacks were knocked off the shelves and my crystal lamp was turned over. People put out their cigarettes in the potted ivy plants.

If Eleanor Roosevelt or the president of Harvard came to town I might invite them into my living room. But for the slobs that we go around with, the cellar is good enough. — MRS. HAD IT.

Loves Coal Hole

Dear Ann: I'm one of those lowbrows who frequently entertains in the "coal hole" and I'm thankful I have such a place.

My husband plays poker with a bunch of baboons who don't have sense enough to use an ash tray. The old table down there has three dozen burned spots.

My sisters have a total of 14 kids who walk on coffee tables and get gum and candy on furniture and drapes. Even the rumpus room junk is too good for them. They should be in a cage with straw on the floor.

Yes, we have a lovely living room but we have sense enough not to let certain people in it. Tell "Seven Leagues Under" not to be so sensitive. Maybe he belongs down there. — NO DOPE.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Mitchell Airs Confidence In Steel Accord

DETROIT (AP)—The steel wage settlement is in line with others negotiated this year and cannot set off a wage spiral with highly inflationary effects, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said today.

And there will be no steel price increases for some time to come if management and labor try to increase the rate of steel productivity, Mitchell added. He said he was sure both sides would make such an effort.

Mitchell's comments were made in an address prepared for the Economic Club of Detroit.

Mitchell, credited with playing a major role in last week's settlement of the 116-day steel strike, also said there may never again be a major steel strike in this country.

"With good will and good sense, and with awareness that an economic institution like a steel corporation or a labor union must serve the public interest as fully as its own interests, it could be possible—on the basis of this settlement — that the United States will have seen its last major steel strike," Mitchell said.

Mitchell said that in the new settlement the steel companies and the United Steelworkers Union have cut the postwar wage increase trend by half. He quoted Roger Blough, chairman of the board of U.S. Steel, as saying the average annual increase in hourly employment costs under the new terms will be 3½ to 3¾ per cent compared with other postwar settlements in which the increase averaged about 8 per cent.

Mitchell said some news stories on the settlement created misunderstanding. He said they did not take into account the fact that the steel settlement has been described in terms of total employment costs, while other major recent settlements have been described in terms of wages and benefits to workers.

Employment costs also include such items as Social Security and unemployment compensation taxes paid by employers on the basis of their payrolls.

"Thus," Mitchell said, "to say that the reported steel package of 39 cents is comparable to the reported aluminum package of 28.2 cents is not only untrue but meaningless. The steel package figure describes total employment costs to the companies; the other is a description only of the wages and benefits received by employes."

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Lack Of Restraint Causes Delinquency

For more than 25 years I have maintained that the largest single cause of increasing juvenile delinquency has been lack of parental restraint of youngsters in the nursery, thanks to the long-prevailing theory of restraints-to-the-winds in early childhood. Although this theory has lately weakened, its practice and its inevitable results, when the child is over 8 or 10, haven't yet reached their summit. Many a column I have devoted to entreating parents to teach tots the meaning of "NO", said just once in a quiet tone, if they wished their children to stay out of the growing army of teen-age delinquents.

By Garry Meyers

THERE'S ANOTHER good reason: the child himself might be happier as he grows older and the parents might be happier living with him. The child has the right to enjoy life in the family and his parents also have the same right.

Ever so many parents in recent months have been writing about how awful it is to try to guide and live daily with a son or daughter, 9, 12 or 14, who won't mind them at all.

"I might as well shout at the moon," a mother writes, "as to command him to do or not to do something."

Says another mother: "If I attempted to punish him, he would just laugh at me."

In some letters, the mother says: "At this rate I'll go insane."

Now I just don't know how to answer these mothers. A quick, good trouncing might work in a few cases, if the mother were able to do it. But in most cases she wouldn't be able.

BESIDES ONE can't be sure she could make herself emotionally fit to do it effectively, or at a time when the child would be emotionally fit to profit from it.

Any mother who has lost her authority over a child, 9, 10 or 12, has been losing this authority for years or has never really exercised it well. So about all I can safely advise is to do the best you can. Put your emphasis on better self-management, build on his good traits and ways and make yourself the kind of person he will like to live with.

My constant hope is that other parents of babies and little children will take warning and make sure these youngsters are adequately restrained in a family atmosphere of love and understanding, not hesitating to use the bare hand on a safe place when necessary.

My bulletins, "Love and Restraint" and "How Juvenile Delinquency Can Be Curbed," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

son's 414,258 with returns in from all but three of 2,109 precincts. His decisive bulge carried Davis' entire ticket to victory.

Farmer, businessman and teacher, Davis rose in the American political tradition. He was a sharecropper's son, one of 11 children reared in Jackson Parish in north Louisiana's red hill country.

It was the overwhelming Davis note in the predominately Protestant north and central parish that swept him to victory. Equally important was that Davis ran close behind in Morrison territory — the southern parishes and in New Orleans.

Davis picks up the reins of office May 10 from Gov. Long. He must defeat Republican nominee Francis Grevemberg and States Rights candidate Kent Courtney in the April 19 general election, but his victory is assured in this one-party state.

Damage Totals Over $500

Youth Admits Vandalism, Implicates 3 Companions

An 18-year-old West End youth entered a guilty plea in Municipal Court today on a charge of breaking two windows Saturday night at Westgate School, confessing to police he and his three juvenile companions—two boys and a girl—also caused about $500 damage at the school on two other occasions.

The juveniles were to appear before Judge Louis Tobin at 1 p. m. today in Lisbon.

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff delayed sentencing Nicholas P. Como, 18, of 971 Church St. until Jan. 19 to allow Juvenile Court to act.

Chertoff told the youth: "Unfortunately, the penalty is not too great. We want to work hand-in-hand with Juvenile Court and I am going to continue sentencing to see what it does.

"You didn't get away with a thing. It may be that you will wish I fined you today."

Como was represented by Atty. Donald E. Smith, who asked leniency, pointing out Como wants to replace the broken windows. Como was released on his own recognizance.

Como and his companions were nabbed by police shortly after 9 Saturday night when a janitor, James Lawrence, said he saw the four breaking two 38-by-40 windows.

Two cruisers were in the West End on other calls and hurriedly responded, blocking the upper and lower front entrances. A third cruiser went down W. 4th St. Ext. to block escape of the vandals.

The officers included Lt. Thomas A. Walker and Patrolmen William E. Nott and Kent Garvey in one cruiser, Patrolman Kenneth Mooney and Patrolman Jerry Adkins in the other two.

Police said the four confessed breaking windows and causing other damage on Halloween and New Year's Eve.

School authorities estimated $340 worth of glass block was smashed on Halloween. However, rather than replace the block, the Board of Education decided to brick up the section.

On New Year's Eve, another 21 windows were smashed with damage estimated at $140, officials said. Police did not make any public report of the vandalism in an attempt to trap the vandals.

Expel Young, District 4 Of Legion Urges

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—A dispute between U. S. Sen. Stephen M. Young and the Hamilton County American Legion Council has brought a call to expel Young from the legion.

The Fourth Ohio Legion District, which covers 70 southwest Ohio posts, voted here Sunday to ask the state executive committee at Columbus to prefer charges against the senator from Cleveland.

Young and Hamilton County Legionnaires quarreled over a speech by the Democratic senator in New York Dec. 15 before the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee.

Neil Wetterman, Americanism chairman of the Hamilton County group, said the council wants Young's membership taken away because of disloyalty, negligence of duties, dishonesty and conduct unbecoming a Legion member.

Early in December, the Hamilton County council contended the civil liberties committee was a Communist front and urged the senator to pull out of his scheduled appearance.

Young replied that he would speak where he chose and that the civil liberties group was not listed by the attorney general as subversive.

New Warrants Bring Promise And Payment

Issuance of nine traffic rearrest warrants at Chester over the weekend has brought the payment of one fine and a promise to pay another, Mayor Burton Ward reported.

Paul Logston of Chester said he would pay a fine of $25 and costs Wednesday on a charge of lack of a city driver's license. Jack Smith of Indiana Ave. paid a fine of $10 and costs for hazardous driving.

A tenth rearrest warrant has not been served because the offender cannot be located, Mayor Ward said.

Samuel Langhorne Clemens, better known as Mark Twain, died in 1910.

Youngstown, Others Face Pressure On Sewage Unit

By PHIL GUNBY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Water Pollution Control Board starts asking questions again Tuesday, and representatives of the city of Youngstown and villages of Middleport, Genoa and Yellow Springs will have to provide the answers.

The board—which has been battling more than eight years to whip the health menace of waterways polluted by raw sewage and industrial wastes—wants to know why the four communities are not moving more rapidly toward building treatment facilities.

If the five board members are not satisfied with the answers, they can deny sewage discharge permits to the communities. This does not mean the communities will have to stop discharging wastes, but it technically puts them in violation of state law.

The stage thus is set for action by the attorney general's office if necessary. This can lead to maximum fines of $500 a day for failure to act.

Yellow Springs has a pumping station and force main which must be replaced or expanded. One solution is a gravity system using a glen owned by Antioch College. But the colleg wants to avoid disturbing the natural beauty of the glen if possible and has offered land for alterations in the present system.

Youngstown Middleport and Genoa do not have treatment plants.

Youngstown, which feeds wastes into the Mahoning River, has made most of the preparations for a $5,775,000 plant except sale of bonds. A threatened taxpayer's suit by Joseph Gottlieb of Youngstown has held this up.

Middleport, in Meigs County, needs a plant that State Health Department officials estimate will cost $250,000 to $300,000.

Department officials originally hoped Middleport and neighboring Pomeroy might build one plant to serve both communities, but think this is unlikely now. Both are on the Ohio River. Pomeroy officials have been directed to appear to give a progress report on what is being done there, however.

Genoa, in Ottawa County, has new village officials, some of whom question the plans proposed by the previous administration for treating wastes which go into Packer's Creek.

Besides Pomeroy, officials from New Matamoras in Washington County have been told to report their progress to the board Tuesday.

Through the board's efforts, 70 of the state's 150 cities had adequate sewage treatment works in operation at the end of 1958.

Since then, treatment facilities have been completed in Toledo (an expansion), Cincinnati (a second plant), Hamilton, Zanesville, Wellsville (Columbiana County) and Napoleon, and work is under way in Warren, Mansfield, Chillicothe, Washington Court House, Euclid and Gallipolis.

Youth Commissioned As Second Lieutenant

Thomas A. Simcox of East Liverpool R. D. 2 has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army after graduating from the Infantry Officer Candidate School at Ft. Benning, Ga.

Lt. Simcox received 23 weeks of training in map reading, infantry tactics, leadership and other phases of the Army.

A 1951 graduate of Chester High School, he worked for the Crucible Steel Co. in Midland before entering the service in May 1953.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Simcox, 441 Indiana Ave., Chester. His wife, June, resides on R. D. 2.

Brig. Gen. Archibald Henderson, USMC, served as commandant of the Marine Corps for nearly four decades — 1820-1859 — the longest on record.

Burglars Foiled In Move To Steal $17,000 In Safe

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A Sealtest Dairy employe surprised six radio-equipped burglars Sunday night and spoiled their attempt to steal a safe containing $17,000.

Bryce Keough, 32, an assistant superintendent at the dairy, said he went to the second floor of the building to check a milk processing unit. He discovered the men as they burned open a vault with an acetylene torch.

The burglars scuffled with Keough, who was struck in the head and face with a pistol. They shoved him inside the empty vault and fled.

Keough said he saw a radio on a desk and heard instructions being relayed from a confederate outside the building.

The safe containing the money was found in a first-floor hallway. It had been dragged from the second floor after the burglars failed to open it. Police said the men apparently had planned on taking it with them until frightened away by Keough.

Shot Accidentally

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP)—Accidentally shot in the chest by a fellow policeman's .38 caliber revolver Sunday, Patrolman James Magoulas, 31, survived. He went to Toledo Hospital after Defiance Hospital medics pronounced him not critically wounded. Patrolman Floyd E. Stites, 24, was checking his gun in the police locker room when it discharged, Chief C. D. Nestleroad said.

Rear Adm. Alfred T. Mahan, whose books did much to bring about a public awareness of U. S. sea power, died Dec. 1, 1914.

Convention Eyed By Singing Group

Plans to attend the regional convention Jan. 30 at Sharon were discussed at a meeting of the Sweet Adelines Chapter Friday night at Tice's Restaurant.

Registration is in charge of Mrs. Jan Dietz, delegate, who also is handling transportation. Mrs. Ruth Rinehart, president, conducted business, with reports given by Mrs. Sally Lynn, secretary, and Mrs. Wanda Schussler, treasurer.

Mrs. Ginger Hile, project chairman, reported on a bake sale planned Feb. 6 at Ogilvie's. A donation will be sent for the farewell gift of Mrs. Lois Riccio of Alexandria, Va., retiring regent of the district.

The group will sing for the Kiwanis anniversary program Tuesday night at the Country Club. Word was received from the national chapter to send news to the "Pitchpipe", the official magazine.

Members voted to accept an amendment to the constitution specified by the national board. Glenn Woods, director, led the practice session. Refreshments were served.

The group will meet again Friday at the restaurant.

Afghanistan, buffer nation between Soviet Russia and Pakistan, has a population of about 12 million.

Kent Student Shoots Girl To Death In Car

KENT, Ohio (AP)—Angered by his girl friend's decision to break up their engagement, a Kent State University sophomore shot and killed her Sunday, police said.

An assistant Summit County prosecutor said Victor Buzard, 22, admitted in a statement that he pumped seven bullets into Paulda Slife, 21, as the two sat in a car. Both are from Akron.

George Pappas, the county official, said he would recommend a first - degree murder charge be filed against Buzard. Pappas said this was the story told by Buzard:

He and Miss Slife had been going together 3½ years. He gave her an engagement ring for Christmas. Three days later she returned the ring, with this explanation: "You're too good for me."

He and the girl and her father and grandfather attended church Sunday morning. After eating dinner at Barberton, he and Miss Slife went for a drive to Kent, stopping in the driveway of Buzard's home.

Buzard said he went into the house to get the keys to her house which she had given him a few days earlier. While there, Buzard told the assistant prosecutor, he decided to get a gun, a .25-caliber automatic.

Pappas related the following incidents he said Buzard told him:

The Kent student got into the car on the driver's side and began to cry: "I love you. Let's not break up. I don't want to marry anybody but you."

Her reply again was: "You're too good for me."

With that, Buzard said he whipped out the gun and pointed it at Miss Slife. Her reaction, according to Buzard, was: "Go ahead and shoot me."

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the auto, driven by Burnett C. Mickley, 19, of Ellwood City swerved off the curve onto the right side of the road and hit the pole, breaking it off and causing considerable damage to the auto.

Treated at Salem City Hospital for cuts, bruises and abrasions were Mickley; Barbara Borghi, 15, of New Brighton; Patty Burford, 13, and Barbara Burford, 16, of New Brighton; Tom McFadden, 18, and Roland Fallabell, 18, both of Ellwood City; Judy Miller, 14, of New Brighton and Jim Householder, 17, of Wurturburg.

The patrol charged Mickley with reckless operation.

2 Men Suffer Injury In Overturning Auto

Two men were injured when the car in which they were riding went off a curve and rolled over on Route 152 a mile east of the Route 213 junction Saturday night at 8:30, according to the Wintersville State Highway Patrol.

Officers said the car driven by Franklin Lindsey, 18, of Lost Creek, W. Va., was demolished. Lindsey suffered abrasions of the head while a passenger, Dorsey Lindsey, 24, of Steubenville also received head abrasions.

Stacey Receives Endorsement For New Election Board Term

Carl L. Stacey of Columbiana was endorsed for reappointment to a four-year term on the Columbiana County Election Board at a meeting of the County Democratic Executive Committee Saturday night at Heck's Restaurant at Columbiana.

About 80 attended the session, at which the committee endorsed Rep. Wayne L. Hays of the 18th Congressional District and Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county party chairman, as delegates to the national Democratic convention in July.

The committee also endorsed Gov. Michael V. DiSalle as the party's "favorite son" candidate at the national convention, regardless of who enters the Ohio primary, Gosney said.

Supported as alternates to the convention, were Maurice Rapport of East Liverpool and Mrs. Dorothy Gorby of Steubenville. Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville and Frank Vannelle of Bellaire were endorsed as delegate-at-large and alternate delegate-at-large, respectively.

Further plans were made for a "Dollars For Democrats" drive later this month. Atty. Paul Tobin and Donal Burcham are in charge of the fund-raising campaign in East Liverpool; Clifford Fultz and precinct committeemen at Wellsville; Atty. Robert Hartford at East Palestine; Vincent Judge at Lisbon and Mrs. Bessie Strabley at Salineville. Gosney and Mrs. Kay Blackburn of Columbiana are county co-chairmen.

Gosney announced there will be candidates for all 152 party precinct committee chairmen for the May primary for the first time in county history. He said there are some 130 already filed and the rest are due soon.

Plans were discussed for the annual Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner in April. Gosney said one of three speakers — Sen. Lyndon Johnson, Sen. Hubert Humphrey or Sen. John Kennedy — will be obtained.

The committee will meet again early in February, following the Feb. 2 filing deadline for primary candidates.

Sheriff Cuts Off Food Supply When Inmates Get Out Of Line

MOUNDSVILLE (AP) — The prisoners at the Marshall County jail have found a surefire way to reduce — get on the wrong side of Sheriff Herman Laas.

The 15 of them put in more than 80 hours without a bite because they did some things that made it look as if they were trying to escape from his jail and, to top it off, made unpleasant, derisive noises at him when he remonstrated.

The sheriff, perhaps borrowing from Napoleon's dictum about what it is an army marches on, knew just how to deal with the situation.

He cut off the food supply. "I think that's the best way to handle a man—through his stomach," he explained.

The imposed fast started after his discovery of the hanky-panky Wednesday night. The prisoners probably thought at first they were going to miss only a meal or two. They were wiser — and thinner — before it was all over.

The sheriff did not relent, until Sunday morning, when he ordered breakfast served. The other regular meals followed and by today the men must be fairly well over their marathon hunger, though far from fat and farther from sassy.

Apparently, nothing further is going to happen to them. "Everything has settled back to normal," the sheriff said last night. "The case is closed."

The prisoners, most of whom are being held to the grand jury on felony charges, got within one door of their freedom. They had knocked out the electrical system controlling the locks on their cells by stuffing them with ticking torn from their beds. This meant they had access to the "range," the common room for the daytime.

They had taken off a lock on one of the two doors connecting the range with the outside. And they had broken up a table and hid the legs, which would have made handy clubs.

Their idea seems to have been to lure the jailer to open that one remaining door. Instead, the sheriff found out what was going on and left them locked up by themselves. He didn't go in until Friday morning, and then with five armed deputies.

The prisoners were shut up in their separate cells. It was all over except for the hunger — which lasted for another two days.

Russia's New Rocket Tests Point To Missile Diplomacy

By SPENCER DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union's newly announced rocket tests in the central Pacific may be the start of a new campaign of missile diplomacy. It may be aimed to impress Asian nations as well as the United States and European countries.

U.S. officials note that the Moscow warning for ships and aircraft to remain out of the target zone between Jan. 15 and Feb. 15 neatly brackets two important diplomatic events:

1. The formal signing of a new 10-year security treaty between the United States and Japan scheduled to take place at the White House on Jan. 19. Japan's Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi and President Eisenhower will be present.

2. The 10-day visit of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to neutral Indonesia, due to begin in mid-February.

Any prestige gathered by spectacular space accomplishments would come, too, just ahead of a series of European diplomatic negotations leading up to next May's four-power summit conference and Eisenhower's visit to the Soviet Union in June.

Another less immediate objective may be a Soviet desire to boost Communist prestige in Asia following the great success of Eisenhower's recent visit to South Asia.

Psychologically the Soviet rocket move could also be expected to call attention to the presence of Soviet fleet units in the Pacific high seas area, generally recognized as having been under U.S. control since World War II.

Khrushchev has cautioned Japan in the past of what he described as the dangers of a military alliance with the United States.

Also Khrushchev told former New York Gov. W. Averell Harriman last year during a Moscow interview that the Soviet Union would support Communist China with rockets if necessary in any trouble over Formosa.

Beating Injuries Fatal

CINCINNATI (AP) — Complications from old injuries suffered when he was beaten while on duty as a gate attendant caused the death Sunday of Roy Crawford, 73. He had been in the hospital since he was injured Dec. 20, 1957. Police said his assailant, Reinhold Dawid, 31, was later confined to Longview State Hospital but was released early last year.

Salem Woman Endorsed

GOP Picks District Slate To Back Nixon Candidacy

Mrs. Letha Astry of Salem and Robert Hocker of Steubenville have been endorsed by Republican party leaders as candidates for 18th Congressional District delegates to the GOP National Convention, pledged to support Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the presidential nomination.

Mrs. Astry is 18th District woman member of the GOP State Central Committee and Hocker is Jefferson County Republican chairman.

The district alternates will be Thomas Richards of Carrollton, Carroll County prosecuting attorney, and Mrs. Isabelle K. Chaney of Cadiz, Harrison County chairwoman.

Ohio will elect convention delegates and alternates to both the Republican and the Democratic National Conventions at the May 3 primaries. Ohio is entitled to a total of 56 delegates to the GOP convention — 46 from districts and 10 elected at-large.

Meanwhile, district GOP leaders have endorsed Mrs. Astry and Dale Fulton of Martins Ferry for reelection to the State Central Committee. Fulton recently was appointed to the vacancy caused by the resignation of U. S. District Judge Carl Weinman of Steubenville.

Belmont Lawyer Eyes Race For State Senate

Atty. Edmund Sargus of St. Clairsville, who practices law in Bellaire, announced over the weekend he will run in the May 3 Democratic primaries for nomination to a second state senate seat in the 20th-22nd District, which includes Columbiana County.

The incumbent is Sen. Arthur Blake of Martins Ferry, also a Democrat, who is serving a four-year term. Because of periodic reapportionment, the district will elect a second senator for a two-year term. In addition to Columbiana, the district includes Belmont, Harrison and Jefferson Counties.

Congregational officers of the Grants Hill United Presbyterian Church, near Salineville, were elected following the afternoon services Sunday.

They include: John Dallas, president; Dwight Baker, secretary; Fred Huyghe, Sunday School superintendent; Mrs. Mary Randolph, Sunday School treasurer, and Miss Carol Sprouse, Sunday School secretary. Mrs. Dallas was elected organist and Miss Sprouse, pianist.

The meeting was conducted by the Rev. James McCollam, pastor.

Incinerator Employe Burned

Flames Sweep Home After 2 Blasts

A city employe was burned about the head Saturday afternoon when a $5,000 fire and explosion ripped through the first floor of his two-story frame home on Dresden Ave. Another house was gutted in one of three calls answered over the weekend.

The entire first floor was ablaze at the home of Herschel Taylor, 1054 Dresden Ave., a city incinerator worker, when firemen were called at 2:46 p. m. Two explosions, apparently caused by leaking gas, preceded the blaze.

Taylor is shown surveying the damage to his home and the cot where he was sleeping when the fire started.

Firemen said one explosion occured at the front of the home and the other was at the rear. A metal kitchen table was blown through a window into the back yard, where it set the grass afire. The table was twisted badly by the impact.

The blast also tore off a faucet on the kitchen sink and knocked out several windows. Firemen said gas was turned on at the cook stove and another unit in the living room.

Taylor apparently was awakened by the first blast. He said he "doesn't know what happened." He said he fell asleep on a couch while watching television and "woke up with fire all around me." He was burned on the top of his head before he threw a coat over himself for protection against the flames and dashed outside. He was treated Sunday night at City Hospital for blisters on the head.

Firemen said the intense heat caused pans on the kitchen stove to fuse together. Some were almost completely melted away.

The fire destroyed all the furniture, including two beds and a new television set, in the three downstairs rooms. No damage resulted to the second floor rooms. Firemen laid 50 feet of 2½-inch line, 200 feet of 1½-inch line and used a booster line to battle the fire.

An uninhabited home at 719 Leonard St. was gutted by flames Sunday morning at 8:55. The house, part of the Garvey estate, was enveloped in flames when firemen arrived.

The blaze originated in a stairway in the kitchen, firemen said. The cause is now known. The fire had a good headway before it was noticed by neighbors, firemen said.

No one has lived in the two-story frame home for a number of years, firemen said.

Firemen were called to the home of Mrs. Donald Wolf, 837 W. 8th St., Sunday at 2:15 a. m. when an electrical short developed in a lamp cord and started it burning. It was out on arrival and there was no damage, firemen said.

Firemen were called to St. Clair Ave. Saturday night when an auto generator shorted and caught fire. It was out on arrival.

Meeting Fixed For Auxiliary

Members of the Industry Township volunteer fire department auxiliary will meet Tuesday night at 8 in the fire hall.

Hazel Jean Dye was elected president; Molly Ahearn, vice president; Kathleen Deer, treasurer, and Jane Kostelac, secretary.

Brownies expressed appreciation to Midland American Legion Post 481 for an American flag to be used for meetings and ceremonies. The Brownies are composing a thank-you letter.

Mrs. John Parsons, program chairman for the Ohio View Women's Club, announced that members and their husbands will have dinner in the cafeteria of the Westinghouse Corp. plant in Beaver at 6:00 p. m. Tuesday and then will go on a tour of the plant.

Mail For Emory U. 14 Bod.

ATLANTA (AP) — As with many public institutions, mail for Emory University often comes with various misspellings.

Internal Revenue Official Explains Rule On Sales Tax

The Internal Revenue Service at Cleveland today released for the first time the guide-lines it uses to determine whether the estimated amount a tax payer deducts on his federal income tax return for Ohio state sales taxes is "reasonable and acceptable."

Melvin J. Burton, district director at Cleveland, said that in addition to specific itemized amounts of sales tax for large dollar purchases such as an auto, piano or material purchased by the taxpayer for home constructions, his offices recognizes as fair an estimate of one percent of adjusted gross income — not to exceed $100 — to cover sales tax for the year on miscellaneous smaller purchases.

This information, Burton emphasized, is only for those who itemize their deductions instead of taking the standard deduction.

"We believe this knowledge will make it easier for taxpayers to fill out that part of their returns relating to the sales tax deduction," Burton said.

He warned, however, that the law is specific in its requirement that taxpayers keep records of their deductions, including sales taxes, in case they may be called on to furnish proof for any item appearing in their returns.

Taxpayers who have records showing sales tax payments should claim the amount of sales tax paid during 1959 in lieu of an estimate, Burton said.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make an invisible ink?

A. Lemon juice makes a good invisible ink. Squeeze some into a bottle and use a clean pen for writing with it. When the liquid has dried, it will be invisible. Then, to make it visible again, just apply the heat of an electric iron or lamp bulb to the paper. The writing will reappear brown and will then be permanently visible. Be sure to stroke your pen lightly when writing, so as not to cause any visible scratches on the paper's surface.

Q. How can I make sure of the removal of cosmetic stains on the necklines of some of the dresses I am washing?

A. A good hair shampoo rubbed into these cosmetic stains on the necklines before the dresses are put into the washer will leave the cloth clean and fresh-looking.

Congress abolished rations of rum in the U. S. Navy in 1862.

Store Proprietor Kills One Of Two In Theft Attempt

MARYSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — County store proprietor Stanley Rhodes, about 50, watched the two men come into his store, and leave, in nearby Pharisburg.

Later, he saw the pair sitting in a car in front of the store—both masked.

Next, he saw them drive away. He called the sheriff's office.

A few minutes later, the two men walked in, one holding a .22 caliber revolver, and demanded money.

Rhodes was ready. He grabbed his own revolver and fatally shot Thomas R. Mayse, 23, in the head and wounded Tildon R. Watts, 26, in the arm. Both were from Marion.

When deputies arrived, all Rhodes had left to do late Saturday night was to tell them about it.

Salem Woman Endorsed

GOP Picks District Slate To Back Nixon Candidacy

Mrs. Letha Astry of Salem and Robert Hocker of Steubenville have been endorsed by Republican party leaders as candidates for 18th Congressional District delegates to the GOP National Convention, pledged to support Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the presidential nomination.

Mrs. Astry is 18th District woman member of the GOP State Central Committee and Hocker is Jefferson County Republican chairman.

The district alternates will be Thomas Richards of Carrollton, Carroll County prosecuting attorney, and Mrs. Isabelle K. Chaney of Cadiz, Harrison County chairwoman.

Ohio will elect convention delegates and alternates to both the Republican and the Democratic National Conventions at the May 3 primaries. Ohio is entitled to a total of 56 delegates to the GOP convention — 46 from districts and 10 elected at-large.

Meanwhile, district GOP leaders have endorsed Mrs. Astry and Dale Fulton of Martins Ferry for re-election to the State Central Committee. Fulton recently was appointed to the vacancy caused by the resignation of U. S. District Judge Carl Weinman of Steubenville.

Belmont Lawyer Eyes Race For State Senate

Atty. Edmund Sargus of St. Clairsville, who practices law in Bellaire, announced over the weekend he will run in the May 3 Democratic primaries for nomination to a second state senate seat in the 20th-22nd District, which includes Columbiana County.

The incumbent is Sen. Arthur Blake of Martins Ferry, also a Democrat, who is serving a four-year term. Because of periodic reapportionment, the district will elect a second senator for a two-year term. In addition to Columbiana, the district includes Belmont, Harrison and Jefferson Counties.

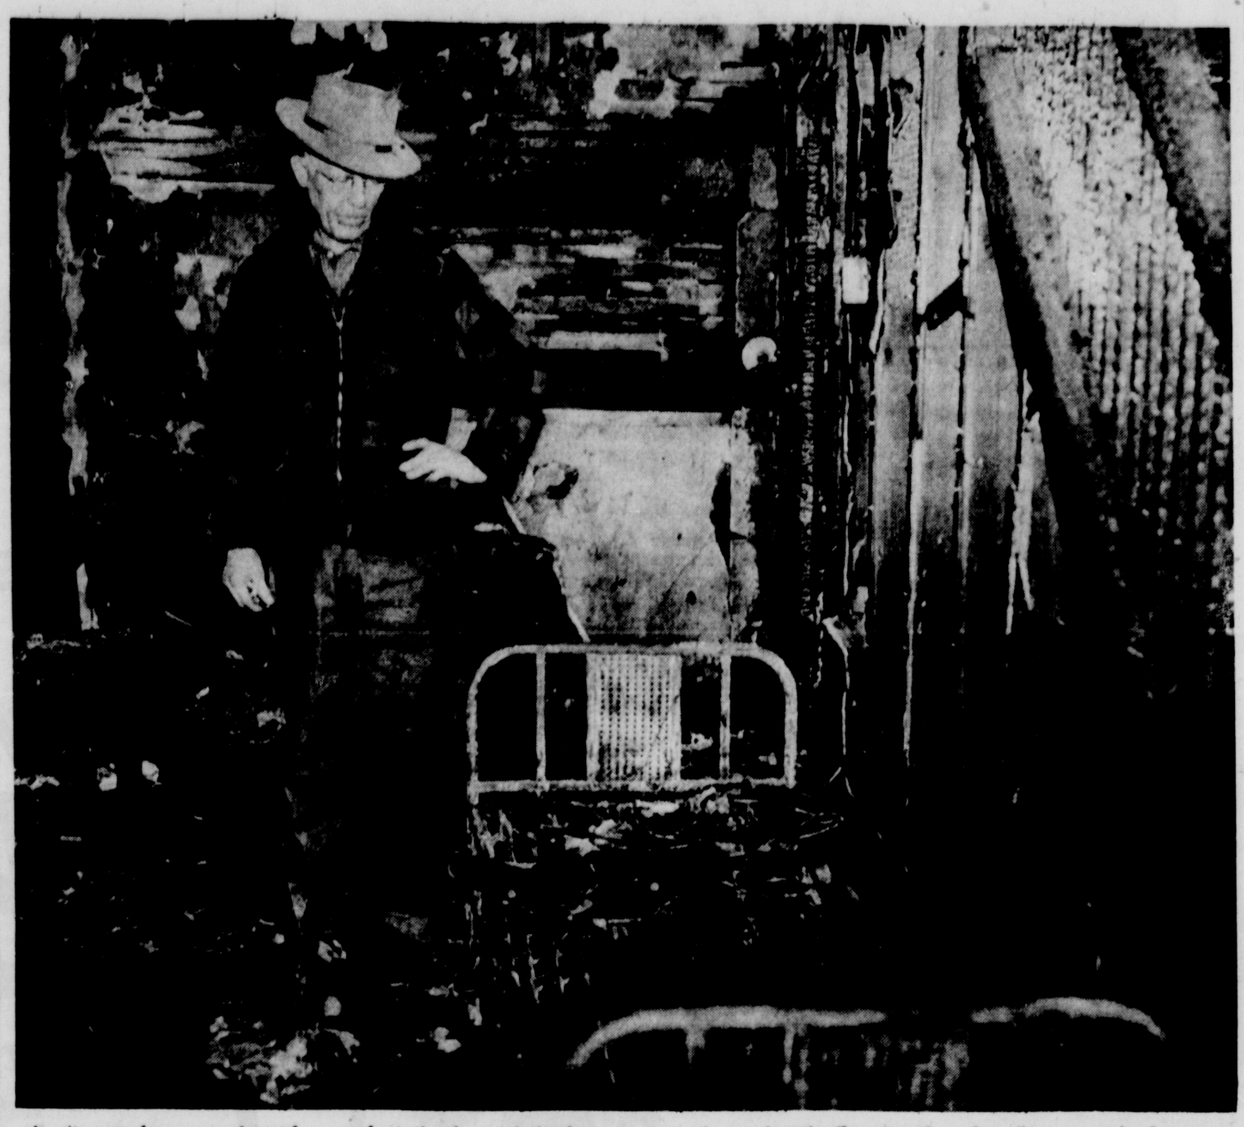
Incinerator Employe Burned

Flames Sweep Home After 2 Blasts



A city employe was burned about the head Saturday afternoon when a $5,000 fire and explosion ripped through the first floor of his two-story frame home on Dresden Ave. Another house was gutted in one of three calls answered over the weekend.

The entire first floor was ablaze at the home of Herschel Taylor, 1054 Dresden Ave., a city incinerator worker, when firemen were called at 2:46 p. m. Two explosions, apparently caused by leaking gas, preceded the blaze.

Taylor is shown surveying the damage to his home and the cot where he was sleeping when the fire started.

Firemen said one explosion occured at the front of the home and the other was at the rear. A metal kitchen table was blown through a window into the back yard, where it set the grass afire. The table was twisted badly by the impact.

The blast also tore off a faucet on the kitchen sink and knocked out several windows. Firemen said gas was turned on at the cook stove and another unit in the living room.

Taylor apparently was awakened by the first blast. He said he "doesn't know what happened." He said he fell asleep on a couch while watching television and "woke up with fire all around me." He was burned on the top of his head before he threw a coat over himself for protection against the flames and dashed outside. He was treated Sunday night at City Hospital for blisters on the head.

Firemen said the intense heat caused pans on the kitchen stove to fuse together. Some were almost completely melted away.

The fire destroyed all the furniture, including two beds and a new television set, in the three downstairs rooms. No damage resulted to the second floor rooms. Firemen laid 50 feet of 2½-inch line, 200 feet of 1½-inch line and used a booster line to battle the fire.

An uninhabited home at 719 Leonard St. was gutted by flames Sunday morning at 8:55. The house, part of the Garvey estate, was enveloped in flames when firemen arrived.

The blaze originated in a stairway in the kitchen, firemen said. The cause is now known. The fire had a good headway before it was noticed by neighbors, firemen said.

No one has lived in the two-story frame home for a number of years, firemen said.

Firemen were called to the home of Mrs. Donald Wolf, 837 W. 8th St., Sunday at 2:15 a. m. when an electrical short developed in a lamp cord and started it burning. It was out on arrival and there was no damage, firemen said.

Firemen were called to St. Clair Ave. Saturday night when an auto generator shorted and caught fire. It was out on arrival.

Internal Revenue Official Explains Rule On Sales Tax

The Internal Revenue Service at Cleveland today released for the first time the guide-lines it uses to determine whether the estimated amount a tax payer deducts on his federal income tax return for Ohio state sales taxes is "reasonable and acceptable."

Melvin J. Burton, district director at Cleveland, said that in addition to specific itemized amounts of sales tax for large dollar purchases such as an auto, piano or material purchased by the taxpayer for home constructions, his offices recognizes as fair an estimate of one percent of adjusted gross income — not to exceed $100 — to cover sales tax for the year on miscellaneous smaller purchases.

This information, Burton emphasized, is only for those who itemize their deductions instead of taking the standard deduction.

"We believe this knowledge will make it easier for taxpayers to fill out that part of their returns relating to the sales tax deduction," Burton said.

He warned, however, that the law is specific in its requirement that taxpayers keep records of their deductions, including sales taxes, in case they may be called on to furnish proof for any item appearing in their returns.

Taxpayers who have records showing sales tax payments should claim the amount of sales tax paid during 1959 in lieu of an estimate, Burton said.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make an invisible ink?

A. Lemon juice makes a good invisible ink. Squeeze some into a bottle and use a clean pen for writing with it. When the liquid has dried, it will be invisible. Then, to make it visible again, just apply the heat of an electric iron or lamp bulb to the paper. The writing will reappear brown and will then be permanently visible. Be sure to stroke your pen lightly when writing, so as not to cause any visible scratches on the paper's surface.

Q. How can I make sure of the removal of cosmetic stains on the necklines of some of the dresses I am washing?

A. A good hair shampoo rubbed into these cosmetic stains on the necklines before the dresses are put into the washer will leave the cloth clean and fresh-looking.

Congress abolished rations of rum in the U. S. Navy in 1862.

Store Proprietor Kills One Of Two In Theft Attempt

MARYSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — County store proprietor Stanley Rhodes, about 50, watched the two men come into his store, and leave, in nearby Pharisburg.

Later, he saw the pair sitting in a car in front of the store—both masked.

Next, he saw them drive away. He called the sheriff's office.

A few minutes later, the two men walked in, one holding a .22 caliber revolver, and demanded money.

Rhodes was ready. He grabbed his own revolver and fatally shot Thomas R. Mayse, 23, in the head and wounded Tildon R. Watts, 26, in the arm. Both were from Marion.

Basements Are Staging Comeback

The basement is staging a strong comeback as a preferred home feature.

That is the observation of many building trade observers, particularly in areas where basements were predominant before the advent of basementless slab construction just after World War II.

In the huge Chicago area, for example, the swing back to basements is pronounced. This is true among the larger, more expensive homes as well as small dwellings.

Many Chicago area builders report they now are providing basements with practically all their houses, whereas a few years ago they offered a choice which included slab type homes.

Most of today's buyers demand houses with basements because they have come to appreciate that basements are bargains, these builders explain.

"Upstairs space costs 14 or 15 times as much per square foot as basement space," says James Jackson, controller of the Herzog Realty Co., one of the Chicago area's major builders featuring basements and hardwood floors.

"IT COSTS only about $1 a foot more," Jackson adds, "to include a basement in a ranch-style house. For that relatively small amount the customer receives double the space he would otherwise. Additionally, he gains upstairs space by having the heating and laundry equipment in the basement."

Evidence of similar partiality to basements is reported by a New Jersey contractor in American Builder, a leading trade publication. The contractor said that since last spring he had sold 175 houses with basements as against only 14 basementless houses built on slabs. The latter dwellings were priced $1,000 lower.

Actually, he added, the 175 to 14 ratio did not truly reflect the extent of buyer preference. He explained that he had been "pushing" the slab models. Otherwise he might not have sold any, he declared.

The overwhelming popularity of his basement houses, which are in the small home class, can be attributed to the much greater space received for the money, the builder asserted.

"With an extra $1,000, he explained, "buyers double their house area; and they get a real wood floor over the main level."

—:—

FLOORS OF oak or other hardwood, noted for natural beauty, foot comfort, warmth and other advantages, are specified almost universally nowadays for homes with joist-and-subfloor construction, such as that employed in houses with basements.

In a statement directed to builders of small homes the magazine urged the inclusion of basements to meet the space problem.

"Basements are the cheapest way to provide that extra space," it declared. "Even where slab or crawl space is the local preference, basements might mean extra sales on the basis of space."

Growing recognition of the value of basements for varied uses, such as workshop, recreation and laundry, is reflected also in Practical Builder, another major trade publication.

Rudolph A. Matern, AIA, the publication's consulting architect, advises readers in a recent issue that full basements are a sales must in many areas.

"If omitted to cut costs," he points out, "much of the anticipated saving will be eliminated by the extra floor space which must be added for heating unit, laundry, storage, etc."

4-Tourney Setup To Await Golfers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Golf Assn. today announced its four-tournament setup for 1960, all fixtures crammed into the June 9-July 17 period.

June 28-29: The 19th annual state juniors championship at Marion Country Club, Marion.

July 11-17: The 54th state amateur championship at Zanesville Country Club.

Refreshing Is The Word

PORTLAND, ORE. — Smash hit of any party or family room is the refreshment bar.

In modern America where the holiday season extends over 12 months and entertaining is apt to consist of a "drop over" invitation, the refreshment bar proves a real boon to the host who likes to relax and enjoy his own party.

Adding a refreshment bar to a family room isn't much of a project. They can be of very simple design and will take little space from the room. In fact, they make good use of wasted space in odd corners, wall areas between windows, or other "unusable" niches.

A REALLY serviceable refreshment bar is made up of several components. The bar counter itself, of course, is the most important. This is used not only for sip 'n' snack time, but also can play an important role as a buffet table for informal spreads, such as bridge party desserts.

One very simple, but effective, bar design calls for straight sides which are slanted inward ever so slightly towards the bottom. Edge-glued panels of tough, but beautiful, Douglas fir are a favorite for this type of styling, for the edge-glued material gives a sleek, sophisticated appearance.

Finishing the wood with a clear plastic lacquer provides plenty of protection while displaying the golden beige coloring and elegant, straight graining of Douglas fir.

Edge-glued fir also makes a distinctive, heavy-duty countertop. It should be finished with long wearing, heavy duty spar varnish or one of the new finishes which resist cigarette burns, moisture rings and scorching from hot dishes.

SUCCESS OF the refreshment bar will depend on what's underneath the counter, too. Definitely, under-counter storage units should be included for supplies of non-perishable foodstuffs, cocktail napkins, and the like. If possible, a pint-sized refrigerator and sink for quick wash-ups should be included.

Paneling of Douglas fir to match the bar itself makes an attractive backbar. On this, open shelving can be mounted for glassware. Another idea would be to design the backbar in handsome, closed cabinets, similar to kitchen cabinets, for added storage.

Choice of bar stools puts the final, personal touch to the refreshment bar.

Three Still At Large After California Break

REDDING, Calif. (AP)—Seventy five sheriff's deputies searched east of here today for three escaped inmates of the Shasta County jail.

Two others were recaptured Sunday night.

Saturday night Joseph P. Schuler, 26, a kitchen trusty, used a paring knife to force a deputy to open the felony tank. Four of the 14 men inside joined him.

Sheriff John Balma identified them as:

Using the paring knife, Schuler disarmed deputy Leroy Pritchard and slashed deputy Earl Moses' arm.

Question: In the soldering of copper tubing with tin-lead solder, what kind of solder is best to use? I note figures on the solder spools and guess they indicate the proportions of tin and lead, but which type should I buy?

Answer: Professionals use solders of different contents for special purposes. For most copper installations, a 50-50 tin - lead solder is the grade to use. It flows easily under reasonable heat and produces durable joints.

QUESTION: I am getting ready to finish the basement in our house. There are water pipes running along the ceiling about halfway between the two side walls of the house.

I would like to make a dropped ceiling to cover these pipes and then attach ceiling tiles to it. Is it necessary to have a flat surface, such as plywood or hardboard, for the tiles? Or can they be attached directly to the strips of wood that will be used to make the lowered ceiling?

Answer: You can do it either way. But if you are going to attach the ceiling tiles to the wood strips, you will have to be certain the strips are properly spaced for nailing or stapling. If you are placing plywood or hardboard over the strips, the spacing of the strips is not important. Another thing to consider is this: should you be using one of the types of acoustical tiles which are attached with cement, then a flat surface is necessary.

QUESTION: We are thinking of applying for an FHA-insured loan covering the remodeling of our kitchen. We intend to put in new appliances as well as make over the entire kitchen. Can we get a loan large enough to cover the appliances as well as the general remodeling?

Answer: Until recently, kitchen appliances were not covered in this kind of transaction. But a new FHA regulation covers the built-in type of appliances. Such appliances must be what is called "permanently attached."

Hoffa Blasts Kennedy For Ignoring Of Labor

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—James R. Hoffa, Teamsters Union president, has accused Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) of ignoring labor in his bid for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination.

At a press conference earlier, Hoffa said the Massachusetts senator "has sacrificed the American labor movement in the hopes of getting some help in Los Angeles from the Southern bloc at the presidential convention."

He referred to Kennedy's part in amending the Landrum-Griffin labor bill.

Hoffa Blasts Kennedy For Ignoring Of Labor

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—James R. Hoffa, Teamsters Union president, has accused Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) of ignoring labor in his bid for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination.

At a press conference earlier, Hoffa said the Massachusetts senator "has sacrificed the American labor movement in the hopes of getting some help in Los Angeles from the Southern bloc at the presidential convention."

He referred to Kennedy's part in amending the Landrum-Griffin labor bill.

Youths And Religious Leaders

Thousands Join Protests Against Attacks On Jews

By The Associated Press

Youths and religious leaders kept in the vanguard today of a mounting counterattack against the world-wide displays of anti-Semitism.

Thousands of young people in Paris and West Berlin took part in demonstrations Sunday protesting a revival of Hitler-like racism.

A group of leading American Protestant clergymen — including evangelist Billy Graham —warned the wave of Jew-baiting "shows a central organizing force of the same vicious type that existed in Nazi Germany."

Swastika signs kept popping up in widely scattered countries over the weekend — including on the wall of a Roman Catholic college in Brazil and a Catholic church in Ypsilanti, Mich.

In West Berlin, the showing of a French-made documentary film about the horrors of Nazi concentration camps drew a capacity crowd of 1,200. It was sponsored by a youth organization of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democratic party.

The Paris demonstration against anti - Semitism saw Protestant pastors, Roman Catholic priests and two members of the French Communist party's Politburo joining about 1,000 young people, mostly Jews.

They marched in a parade organized by the Representative Council of Jews in France. Some in the parade wore the striped uniforms of concentration camps. The marchers filed past a memorial to an unknown Jewish martyr than went on to the Paris town hall, shouting "Down with the Nazis" and Death to the hangmen."

Five teen-agers—16 to 18—were arrested in New York City for painting "Down with Jews" on a municipal building. Two others, 12 and 13, were seized Saturday for painting a red circle on a synagogue in Brooklyn.

While the spread of hate slogans raised grave concern everywhere, there were still sharp differences in assessing the significance of the outrages.

Benjamin R. Epstein, U.S. director of B'nai B'rith's Anti-Defamation League, said in New York the smearings were the work of imitators "excited by the dramatic aspect of this thing."

U.S. Sen. Jacob Javits (R-NY) told an audience in Montreal the wave of anti-Semitism is a "kind of chain reaction by ultra right-wing elements" set off "by the neo-Nazi spark in West Germany."

Residents Of County Share $29 Million Social Security

Residents of Columbiana and Mahoning Counties received $29 million in Social Security benefits during 1959, according to the estimate made today by William J. McCauley, manager of the Youngstown District Office which serves both counties.

McCauley estimated that in Mahoning County monthly benefits of $1,930,000 were paid to 24,116 persons and in Columbiana County monthly benefits of $796,000 were paid to 9,950 persons.

McCauley said these estimates were based on actual figures as of the number of beneficiaries and the amount of monthly benefits in current payment status as of Feb. 28, 1959.

They show a total of 32,767 persons were being paid $26,735,124 a year. Of this, there were 23,216 persons in Mahoning County being paid $1,612,935.00 per month and 9,551 persons in Columbiana County paid $614,992.00 per month.

This represents all types of payments including retirement, survivors, and totally and permanently disabled and their dependents.

In Mahoning County over 500 disabled persons and their dependents were receiving $44,800 per month and 262 in Columbiana County receiving $20,240 per month.

To be eligible for disability benefits, a wage earner must be between the age of 50-65. If, however, they are younger than 50, they can apply to have their wage record frozen in order to protect their benefit, McCauley said.

He stressed that while the benefits are intended for the beneficiaries' economic security, these payments help business in the community generally because most of the money is spent immediately on food, clothing and other necessities.

McCauley listed four times when it is necessary and especially important to contact your Social Security Office of which East Liverpool's is in the basement of the Post Office.

They are:

1. — At retirement age of 62 for woman and 65 for men.

2. — At age 72 even if working full time as benefits would be paid even if you continue to work.

3. — When a worker who was covered by Social Security dies.

4. — When totally and permanently disabled before reaching age 65.

Census Head Picked

BEAVER — Delbert D. Dennison of New Castle has been named supervisor in the Beaver-Butler-Lawrence County area for the 1960 federal census of population and housing, it was announced over the weekend in Washington. The field canvass will begin April 1. The district supervisors will recruit crew leaders and other personnel.

Meany Blasts 'Do Nothing'

WASHINGTON (AP)—AFL-CIO President George Meany said today the administration and Congress can expect a voters' revolt in November unless the "Washington posture of sit-down and do-nothing" is changed.

The American people, Meany said, "do not see any point or profit in the collapse of the functions of our government, whether the breakdown takes place in the middle of the road or on either side."

Meany's remarks were prepared for the opening of a three-day rally of 600 AFL-CIO union officers called to drum up support for a series of union-wanted measures in Congress.

He said the country has been drifting backward, instead of forging ahead.

"Not only in outer space but right here on solid earth," he said, "the United States faces an enormous and growing deficit—in national defense, in education, in housing, urban renewal, industrial expansion, social security, modern roads, airports and community facilities."

Meeting Arranged By Scout Officials

A district meeting for Girl Scout leaders and chairmen will be held in Midland High School tonight at 8.

Scheduled to attend are Mrs. William Black, Midland; Mrs. Harry Young, Midland Heights; Mrs. Richard Graham, Ohioville; Mrs. Steve Hazy, Ohio View; Mrs. Joan Henry, Mrs. George Myers and Mrs. George Hamilton, all of Ohio View, and Mrs. Richard Carr, field director.

Members of the Ohio Township volunteer fire department will meet tonight at 8 in the fire hall to elect officers.

The auxiliary will meet Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Minnie Reed. Plans will be discussed for the public card party to be sponsored by the auxiliary Jan. 29 in the firehall.

Following the clinic, Dr. Mikito will call on cerebral palsy patients at the Cerebral Palsy Center in the Mary Patterson Memorial. The CP Center's telephone number is FU 5-7900.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon's entry into the presidential race sparked both praise and criticism during the weekend.

Politicians were not at all hesitant in expressing their views not only on Nixon, but also on matters ranging from religion to missile tests and alleged executive misinformation.

Nixon became an acknowledged GOP candidate by consenting to have his name and delegate slates entered in three primaries. The announcement was made without fanfare by his press representative, Herbert G. Klein.

The three primaries involved are in New Hampshire March 8, Ohio May 3 and Oregon May 20.

Nixon is considered a cinch for the nomination. New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said during the holidays he would not seek it, and no one else has appeared to challenge Nixon.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill), the Senate Republican leader, said he wasn't surprised by what he called the agreeable news about Nixon.

Dirksen said Rockefeller had made a "very realistic and very practical" move in withdrawing.

Sen. Thruston B. Morton (R-Ky), Republican national chairman, said Nixon would be an "articulate, vigorous and tough candidate."

Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler had a different description. He termed Nixon a "shrewd, devious political operator."

The two chairmen agreed on one point. They told a television audience that religion will not be an important factor in the fall elections.

One of the announced contenders for the Democratic nomination is Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), a Roman Catholic who also has made it clear that he thinks religion should play no part in the consideration of candidates.

Kennedy's only announced opponent for the nomination so far is Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn). He was speech-making in the West during the weekend.

Humphrey said in an interview at Salt Lake City that the United Nations should supervise missile tests and that the United States should ask the U.N. to supervise underground nuclear tests.

Humphrey said the biggest single issue in the presidential campaign is "the erosion of American leadership."

Former President Harry Truman also had something to say about leadership.

Speaking at Phoenix, Ariz., Truman said: "I blow up at what's been done not for the people but to the people in the last seven years. Vote for a halo once more and see what you get."

Truman said again he probably won't endorse a Democratic presidential candidate until just before the Democratic convention next July. He has denied reports that he already has decided on Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo).

Symington said Sunday in a radio-television interview "I certainly would like to be President." He added "I am not actively seeking delegates at present—but I am interested in the general subject."

Ohio's Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, who has pledged all-out support to Kennedy, said he thought any of the potential Democratic nominees could be elected president.

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz) said in a television interview that he would not favor an Easterner as a running mate for Nixon. He said his choice for the vice presidential spot would be either Dirksen or Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana.

DiSalle Dismisses Religion As Key Factor In Campaign

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Religion will not be a determining factor in the presidential campaign if Sen. John F. Kennedy wins the Democratic nomination, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle told a radio and television audience Sunday.

"I have been accused of associating in a plot to make a Catholic president," DiSalle, also a Democrat, said. "I think people will try to make a great deal out of it. I don't think it will be a determining factor."

Both DiSalle and Kennedy are Catholics.

The governor, who has pledged all-out support to the Massachusetts senator in the presidential race, was on a nationwide "Face the Nation (CBS) television and radio broadcast originating here.

On the panel were Richard L. Maher, Cleveland newsman; William H. Lawrence of the New York Times, and Dallas Townsend of CBS News. Stuart Novins of CBS News moderated the 30-minute program from WOSU, the Ohio State University station.

DiSalle, who has announced he will run for favorite son in the May 3 Ohio primary, and would have his delegates back Kennedy, said he felt the Democratic senator should not enter the Ohio primary himself.

"If Kennedy came in, there would be a lot of little wars . . . that we feel would be best to avoid," he said.

Brushing aside claims by Ohio's Democratic Sen. Frank J. Lausche that voters would not have a choice in the primary, DiSalle said any candidate was free to come in. Lausche, a former five-term governor and one of Ohio's best vote-getters, has threatened to run his own delegate slate.

DiSalle said he had not thought of a Washington post if Kennedy won the election. "I would not resign (as governor) to take on the national chairmanship," he added.

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler beat out DiSalle for the post.

Turning to the Republicans, DiSalle expressed some doubts about the part Vice President Richard M. Nixon played in ending the steel strike.

"If I were a member of the senate, I think I would want to look into what was promised the steel companies," the governor said.

He added that Labor Secretary James Mitchell played politics by bringing Nixon, who is on the verge of declaring for the GOP presidential nomination, into what DiSalle termed a delicate situation.

Also on the topic of Nixon, DiSalle discounted political prestige that might accrue to Nixon and the Republicans from the summit meetings and President Eisenhower's foreign tour.

Noting the difference between receptions given the President and Nixon on their foreign trips, DiSalle said:

"The vice president wound up in agruments but Eisenhower was greeted by applause . . . I think there is a difference between the two and their approach to the problems."

Wellsville Extends Winning Streak To 6 Straight Games

Steubenville Central Bows, 68-46

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

Wellsville High came through with a whirlwind third quarter and capped a successful weekend of action Saturday night by thundering over Steubenville Central Catholic, 68-46, for the sixth victory in a row.

Coach Jack McDevitt's Tigers outscored the Steubenville club in the third quarter, 15-3, to settle the outcome.

A fair-sized crowd saw the Tigers chalk up their second triumph of the weekend on the home boards of Beacom Memorial gym. Friday night, Wellsville had turned back Toronto, 59-46.

Still lacking considerable poise offensively, the Tigers put the emphasis on defense against Steubenville's Crusaders and limited them to only 14 baskets.

LEADING THE defensive phase of the operations for the second straight night was Wellsville's stellar center Franklin Jackson, who wowed the crowd with soaring leaps while blocking many of Central's scoring attempts in the pivot area.

Junior sensation Bob Kiggans, 6-foot, 2-inch forward, spark-plugged the Wellsville offensive game by scoring 19 points and hauling down 17 rebounds. The veteran drrive-in artist kept his point average in the upper brackets with some uncanny foul shooting, sinking nine of 10 tosses. Kiggans shows 140 points in seven games, a 20 average.

Still not satisfied with the floor game of his squad, McDevitt commented afterwards that "we look bad and still win but some night this club is going to score over 100 points if the kids ever reach their full potential."

The Tigers left little doubt that they were much the better after blitzing the Crusaders in the third period in which Steubenville was limited to three foul shots.

WELLSVILLE LED by as much as 10 points in the second period—28-18 with 4:20 left until halftime—and opened the third quarter by scoring 10 straight points on a drive ignited by senior guard Milt Lamp.

Lamp connected for three jump shots from the side at the quarter's start and following goals by Ray Franklin and Kiggans, plus a few free throws, Wellsville headed into the final eight minutes with a 17-point lead, 47-30.

Kiggans received considerable help in keeping the attack rolling from Phil Baldwin and Lamp, each of whom finished in double figures. Baldwin dropped in 15 in one of his better scoring nights of the season and Lamp finished with 14.

Jackson scored only four and fouled out with 1:39 left in the game, but it was his defensive work and rebounding that turned the tide in favor of the Tigers.

Franklin, 5-10 senior guard, turned in a commendable floor game in the first period. He also fouled out in the final period, leaving at 1:37. Steubenville lost Tom Eroshevich on personals with 5:11 remaining.

Forty-six fouls were called by the officials — 25 against Wellsville and 21 against Central — and action was slowed badly in the second half when play began getting exceptionally rough.

Wellsville now shows a 6-1 season's record, while Steubenville is 2-3.

The Orange and Black finished with a 35 per cent shooting average in goaling 22 of 63 shots.

WELLSVILLE'S marksmanship at the foul line was in direct contrast to Friday night's battle against Toronto when the squad made only 13 of 26.

Against Central, the Tigers shot 77 per cent at the charity line in making 24 of 31. Coach Francis Sebring's Crusaders tried 37 and made only 18.

Ross Monaco, an outside shooter, sparked the Crusaders with 15 points. Brian Moore chipped in with eight and John Polshaw, 6-3, sophomore, made seven.

Central used virtually ever player on the bench in an attempt to find the right combination, but Wellsville was far too strong in rebounding strength in Jackson and Kiggans and had the best outside shooter in Lamp. Kiggans and Baldwin got most of their points on inside jump shots.

Safely past two sectional foes for the weekend, the Tigers face two other formidable opponents this Friday and Saturday.

Wellsville will meet Chester on the home boards Friday night and powerful Weirton Madonna Saturday night in what could prove to be the sternest test since the opening season's game with Midland.

The preliminary game Saturday night was a hair-raiser as the Wellsville Reserves rallied in the final two minutes to come from behind and shade Central's Jayvees, 51-43.

Roy Crews dropped in two foul shots to break a 43-43 tie and another goal by Roger Ours virtually wrapped up the game for Coach Carl Firm's Tiger five.

It was the fourth straight triumph for Wellsville's reserve squad, which bumped the Central Reserves from the unbeaten ranks, their first defeat in five games. The Tiger squad is 5-2 for the season.

ELHS Ends Long Road Trip With 70-56 Loss To South

Superior Shooting Spills Potter Five

The East Liverpool Potters launched a five-game road trip on Dec. 12 and since then have piled up the same number of defeats.

The latest setback came Saturday night when East Liverpool dropped a 70-56 decision to Youngstown South at the South High fieldhouse.

The Potters kept pace with the Warriors for three periods, but South, which fired an amazing 55 per cent for the evening, climaxed its red-hot shooting with 22 points in the fourth quarter to win going away.

TRAILING 18-9 at the end of the first period, the Potters found the range in the second quarter and moved within three points at halftime, 31-28.

The Blue and White came out fired up to start the third quarter, caught South and went out in front midway in the period.

However, South came bouncing back before the end of the quarter and grabbed a 48-44 margin at the buzzer.

Youngstown couldn't have been any hotter than it was in the fourth quarter. The Warriors, who were fastbreaking and hitting from outside, ran up 22 points while the Potters were scoring only 12, to wrap up their fifth victory in eight starts.

While East Liverpool's losing string reached five straight, Coach Jim Harris saw his 6-foot-6 pivot man, Ray Bigelow, hit in the double figures for the second straight game.

Bigelow, who has been improving rapidly as the season progresses, dropped in 19 points, a new high for him as a varsity performer.

Harris also had words of praise for Bigelow for an outstanding job on the backboards. Bigelow was hitting on tip-ins, hook shots and jumpers.

—:—

HARRIS ALSO praised the work of Kenny Cunningham, who finally returned to his old form and dropped in 21 points to pace the Blue and White in the scoring department.

It marked the first time Cunningham had hit the 20's since East Liverpool's opening win over Alliance.

His feeding to set up teammates' shots was also cited by Harris.

Three Youngstown South cagers gained the double figures, but the big thorn in the side of the Potters was Don Willis, 6-foot-3, who dropped in 21 points.

Saturday's defeat ended the long and weary road trip which began at Wellsville on Dec. 12.

After dropping their first game of the season to the Tigers, the Potters took successive defeats on the chin at Warren, Canton McKinley and Midland.

East Liverpool will return to Memorial Auditorium Friday night to entertain Toronto. The contest will mark the first home game in more than a month.

Following Friday's game, the Potters will travel to Marietta Saturday night.

Cannon, Lucas Lead Way As East Takes Hula Bowl

HONOLULU (AP) — Sunday's 14th annual Hula Bowl might well have been called the Cannon-Lucas affair.

For All-America Billy Cannon of Louisiana State and Penn State's Richie Lucas accounted for four of the East college all-stars' five touchdowns in the 34-8 rout of the West.

Cannon scored three touchdowns, one on a pass from Lucas. Lucas — voted the games' outstanding player — pitched another paydirt pass to Mississippi's Larry Grantham, voted the outstanding lineman.

The 23-year-old Cannon, the nation's top professional draft choice, opened the scoring with a 59-yard punt return in the first period. Lucas' 11-yard touchdown pass to Grantham midway in the period followed by a 12-yard paydirt throw to Cannon late in the quarter.

The West, ragged in the line and able to gain only 15 yards rushing, scored in the second period after California's Pete Demoto intercepted a Lucas pass on the East 38 and ran it back to the 4. Fullback Jack Spikes of Texas Christian skirted left end for the touchdown.

Won For Jurges

BOSTON (AP) — Under Manager Bill Jurges, the Boston Red Sox compiled a .550 percentage last season and finished fifth, one game out of fourth place. It was a better percentage than the .513 compiled by the third place Yankees. Jurges took over for Mike Higgins on July 3 with the Sox in last place. For Jurges they won 44 games and lost 36.

Salem Shades Foe For Sixth

A standing-room-only crowd of 2,000 watched Salem come back after trailing 38-32 at halftime.

Salem fought back to grab a 47-46 edge after three periods, then held on throughout the final quarter.

The victory was Salem's fifth in six games, with the lone defeat coming at the hands of Youngstown East last Tuesday.

Dan Krichbaum was the spark for Salem with 26 points. Dave Hunter and Don Davidson each dropped in 12.

Undefeated Fives Face Major Tests

By The Associated Press

The storm signals are up in college basketball today and by another week the skimpsy list of major unbeatens could be nonexistant.

That includes Cincinnati's top-ranking Bearcats as well as the relatively untested Texas A&M, Villanova and LaSalle teams, the trio that joins Oscar Robertson & Co. in making up the current perfect record class.

Cincinnati, which has swept past 12 straight opponents, faces "Challenge Week" within the rough Missouri Valley Conference—meeting St. Louis in Cincinnati Wednesday before moving on to Peoria, Ill., for a Saturday game with Bradley.

The Bearcats whipped Bradley 86-71 (Bradley's only loss in 11 games) in December, but had two big factors going for them then. First, the Bearcats were at home. Second, they had hulking 6-4 Bob Wiesenhahn, their best defensive player and a solid rebounder, available to take some of the pressure off Robertson.

Now Wiesenhahn is out with a foot injury and in his two-game absence so far, Robertson has been held to 27 and 24 points—well under his normal 40-point pace—while he attends more to rebounding and defense.

St. Louis, 12th-ranked nationally with a 10-3 record, has the height and muscle to more than match Cincinnati while Bradley, fourth-ranked nationally and unbeaten in 29 home games, has the scoring power to beat Cincinnati unless the Big O can concentrate on shooting.

Texas A&M (10-0), Villanova (9-0) and LaSalle (8-0) also have immediate problems.

The Aggies meet SMU (8-4) Tuesday, a club they edged 58-55 in the Southwest Conference Christmas Tournament final, and then go against Texas (8-3) on Friday. If Villanova survives its game with Temple (9-3) Wednesday, there's the rugged matter at Morgantown, W.Va., Saturday against West Virginia, the nation's third-ranked team, and unbeaten on its home floor in 38 consecutive games. LaSalle, which squeezed by Duquesne 68-65 Saturday, has a road test tonight at Morehead State (Ky.).

In some of tonight's key games, Tulane, along with Georgia Tech the surprise Southeastern Conference leader, gets its big test at Kentucky while Georgia Tech (10-1 and sixth-ranked nationally) plays twice-beaten Mississippi; ninth-ranked Illinois plays at Purdue and Iowa home to Michigan State in Big 10 features; and West Virginia tries for its 57th straight Southern Conference victory against William & Mary at home.

What's in store for the elite was indicated last Saturday when fifth-ranked Utah and eight-ranked Wake Forest were beaten, and California, West Virginia, Bradley, Ohio State and Southern California—other members of the top 10—had to come from behind to win. Cincinnati ran its two-season win streak to 13 with an 83-50 romp over Tulsa, Illinois downed Minnesota 90-82, and Georgia Tech had an easy time with Mississippi State, 82-60.

Wellsville Extends Winning Streak To 6 Straight Games

Steubenville Central Bows, 68-46

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

Wellsville High came through with a whirlwind third quarter and capped a successful weekend of action Saturday night by thundering over Steubenville Central Catholic, 68-46, for the sixth victory in a row.

Coach Jack McDevitt's Tigers outscored the Steubenville club in the third quarter, 15-3, to settle the outcome.

A fair-sized crowd saw the Tigers chalk up their second triumph of the weekend on the home boards of Beacom Memorial gym. Friday night, Wellsville had turned back Toronto, 59-46.

Still lacking considerable poise offensively, the Tigers put the emphasis on defense against Steubenville's Crusaders and limited them to only 14 baskets.

LEADING THE defensive phase of the operations for the second straight night was Wellsville's stellar center Franklin Jackson, who wowed the crowd with soaring leaps while blocking many of Central's scoring attempts in the pivot area.

Junior sensation Bob Kiggans, 6-foot, 2-inch forward, spark-plugged the Wellsville offensive game by scoring 19 points and hauling down 17 rebounds. The veteran drrive-in artist kept his point average in the upper brackets with some uncanny foul shooting, sinking nine of 10 tosses. Kiggans shows 140 points in seven games, a 20 average.

Still not satisfied with the floor game of his squad, McDevitt commented afterwards that "we look bad and still win but some night this club is going to score over 100 points if the kids ever reach their full potential."

The Tigers left little doubt that they were much the better after blitzing the Crusaders in the third period in which Steubenville was limited to three foul shots.

WELLSVILLE LED by as much as 10 points in the second period—28-18 with 4:20 left until halftime—and opened the third quarter by scoring 10 straight points on a drive ignited by senior guard Milt Lamp.

Lamp connected for three jump shots from the side at the quarter's start and following goals by Ray Franklin and Kiggans, plus a few free throws, Wellsville headed into the final eight minutes with a 17-point lead, 47-30.

Kiggans received considerable help in keeping the attack rolling from Phil Baldwin and Lamp, each of whom finished in double figures. Baldwin dropped in 15 in one of his better scoring nights of the season and Lamp finished with 14.

Jackson scored only four and fouled out with 1:39 left in the game, but it was his defensive work and rebounding that turned the tide in favor of the Tigers.

Franklin, 5-10 senior guard, turned in a commendable floor game in the first period. He also fouled out in the final period, leaving at 1:37. Steubenville lost Tom Eroshevich on personals with 5:11 remaining.

Forty-six fouls were called by the officials — 25 against Wellsville and 21 against Central — and action was slowed badly in the second half when play began getting exceptionally rough.

Wellsville now shows a 6-1 season's record, while Steubenville is 2-3.

The Orange and Black finished with a 35 per cent shooting average in goaling 22 of 63 shots.

WELLSVILLE'S marksmanship at the foul line was in direct contrast to Friday night's battle against Toronto when the squad made only 13 of 26.

Ross Monaco, an outside shooter, sparked the Crusaders with 15 points. Brian Moore chipped in with eight and John Polshaw, 6-3, sophomore, made seven.

Central used virtually ever player on the bench in an attempt to find the right combination, but Wellsville was far too strong in rebounding strength in Jackson and Kiggans and had the best outside shooter in Lamp. Kiggans and Baldwin got most of their points on inside jump shots.

Safely past two sectional foes for the weekend, the Tigers face two other formidable opponents this Friday and Saturday.

Wellsville will meet Chester on the home boards Friday night and powerful Weirton Madonna Saturday night in what could prove to be the sternest test since the opening season's game with Midland.

The preliminary game Saturday night was a hair-raiser as the Wellsville Reserves rallied in the final two minutes to come from behind and shade Central's Jayvees, 51-43.

Roy Crews dropped in two foul shots to break a 43-43 tie and another goal by Roger Ours virtually wrapped up the game for Coach Carl Firm's Tiger five.

It was the fourth straight triumph for Wellsville's reserve squad, which bumped the Central Reserves from the unbeaten ranks, their first defeat in five games. The Tiger squad is 5-2 for the season.

ELHS Ends Long Road Trip With 70-56 Loss To South

Superior Shooting Spills Potter Five

The East Liverpool Potters launched a five-game road trip on Dec. 12 and since then have piled up the same number of defeats.

The latest setback came Saturday night when East Liverpool dropped a 70-56 decision to Youngstown South at the South High fieldhouse.

The Potters kept pace with the Warriors for three periods, but South, which fired an amazing 55 per cent for the evening, climaxed its red-hot shooting with 22 points in the fourth quarter to win going away.

TRAILING 18-9 at the end of the first period, the Potters found the range in the second quarter and moved within three points at halftime, 31-28.

The Blue and White came out fired up to start the third quarter, caught South and went out in front midway in the period.

However, South came bouncing back before the end of the quarter and grabbed a 48-44 margin at the buzzer.

Youngstown couldn't have been any hotter than it was in the fourth quarter. The Warriors, who were fastbreaking and hitting from outside, ran up 22 points while the Potters were scoring only 12, to wrap up their fifth victory in eight starts.

While East Liverpool's losing string reached five straight, Coach Jim Harris saw his 6-foot-6 pivot man, Ray Bigelow, hit in the double figures for the second straight game.

Bigelow, who has been improving rapidly as the season progresses, dropped in 19 points, a new high for him as a varsity performer.

Harris also had words of praise for Bigelow for an outstanding job on the backboards. Bigelow was hitting on tip-ins, hook shots and jumpers.

—:—

HARRIS ALSO praised the work of Kenny Cunningham, who finally returned to his old form and dropped in 21 points to pace the Blue and White in the scoring department.

It marked the first time Cunningham had hit the 20's since East Liverpool's opening win over Alliance.

His feeding to set up teammates' shots was also cited by Harris.

Three Youngstown South cagers gained the double figures, but the big thorn in the side of the Potters was Don Willis, 6-foot-3, who dropped in 21 points.

Saturday's defeat ended the long and weary road trip which began at Wellsville on Dec. 12.

After dropping their first game of the season to the Tigers, the Potters took successive defeats on the chin at Warren, Canton McKinley and Midland.

East Liverpool will return to Memorial Auditorium Friday night to entertain Toronto. The contest will mark the first home game in more than a month.

Following Friday's game, the Potters will travel to Marietta Saturday night.

Beaver, Potter Matmen Win

Beavers Upset Purple Riders In 6th Victory

Beaver Local turned in its most impressive wrestling victory of the season Saturday by knocking a strong Martins Ferry team from the ranks of the undefeated, 31-15, at Martins Ferry.

Both teams entered the match with perfect 5-0 marks, but Coach Jack O'Rourke's team proved the stronger in recording its sixth straight mat victory.

Martins Ferry entered the match with eight undefeated wrestlers, but Beaver Local captured seven of the 11 bouts.

Four Beaver Local grapplers remained undefeated. They include Chuck Timmons, Francis Possage, Larry Yost and Carl Hoppel.

Possage followed with his sixth straight victory by decisioning Snider, 3-0. Gary Rambo turned in the first fall of the match by flooring Deaton in 4:40.

In the 145-pound match, Bob McBane pinned Schmidt in 3:11 and Francis Campbell picked up a 12-3 decision over Yeager, Ferry's 175-pounder.

One match ended in a draw when Jim Hall and Kidney battled to a 2-2 tie in the 154-pound bout.

Martins Ferry picked up a victory in the 138-pound division when Kardelus handed Bill Greathouse his first loss on a 3-2 decision.

Walters of Martins Ferry turned in the other win by pinning Westover in 1:02.

Cannon, Lucas Lead Way As East Takes Hula Bowl

For All-America Billy Cannon of Louisiana State and Penn State's Richie Lucas accounted for four of the East college all-stars' five touchdowns in the 34-8 rout of the West.

Cannon scored three touchdowns, one on a pass from Lucas. Lucas — voted the games' outstanding player — pitched another paydirt pass to Mississippi's Larry Grantham, voted the outstanding lineman.

The 23-year-old Cannon, the nation's top professional draft choice, opened the scoring with a 59-yard punt return in the first period. Lucas' 11-yard touchdown pass to Grantham midway in the period followed by a 12-yard paydirt throw to Cannon late in the quarter.

The West, ragged in the line and able to gain only 15 yards rushing, scored in the second period after California's Pete Demoto intercepted a Lucas pass on the East 38 and ran it back to the 4. Fullback Jack Spikes of Texas Christian skirted left end for the touchdown.

Won For Jurges

BOSTON (AP) — Under Manager Bill Jurges, the Boston Red Sox compiled a .550 percentage last season and finished fifth, one game out of fourth place. It was a better percentage than the .513 compiled by the third place Yankees. Jurges took over for Mike Higgins on July 3 with the Sox in last place. For Jurges they won 44 games and lost 36.

Salem Shades Foe For Sixth

A standing-room-only crowd of 2,000 watched Salem come back after trailing 38-32 at halftime.

Salem fought back to grab a 47-46 edge after three periods, then held on throughout the final quarter.

The victory was Salem's fifth in six games, with the lone defeat coming at the hands of Youngstown East last Tuesday.

Dan Krichbaum was the spark for Salem with 26 points. Dave Hunter and Don Davidson each dropped in 12.

Undefeated Fives Face Major Tests

By The Associated Press

The storm signals are up in college basketball today and by another week the skimpsy list of major unbeatens could be nonexistant.

That includes Cincinnati's top-ranking Bearcats as well as the relatively untested Texas A&M, Villanova and LaSalle teams, the trio that joins Oscar Robertson & Co. in making up the current perfect record class.

Cincinnati, which has swept past 12 straight opponents, faces "Challenge Week" within the rough Missouri Valley Conference—meeting St. Louis in Cincinnati Wednesday before moving on to Peoria, Ill., for a Saturday game with Bradley.

The Bearcats whipped Bradley 86-71 (Bradley's only loss in 11 games) in December, but had two big factors going for them then. First, the Bearcats were at home. Second, they had hulking 6-4 Bob Wiesenhahn, their best defensive player and a solid rebounder, available to take some of the pressure off Robertson.

Now Wiesenhahn is out with a foot injury and in his two-game absence so far, Robertson has been held to 27 and 24 points—well under his normal 40-point pace—while he attends more to rebounding and defense.

St. Louis, 12th-ranked nationally with a 10-3 record, has the height and muscle to more than match Cincinnati while Bradley, fourth-ranked nationally and unbeaten in 29 home games, has the scoring power to beat Cincinnati unless the Big O can concentrate on shooting.

Texas A&M (10-0), Villanova (9-0) and LaSalle (8-0) also have immediate problems.

The Aggies meet SMU (8-4) Tuesday, a club they edged 58-55 in the Southwest Conference Christmas Tournament final, and then go against Texas (8-3) on Friday. If Villanova survives its game with Temple (9-3) Wednesday, there's the rugged matter at Morgantown, W.Va., Saturday against West Virginia, the nation's third-ranked team, and unbeaten on its home floor in 38 consecutive games. LaSalle, which squeezed by Duquesne 68-65 Saturday, has a road test tonight at Morehead State (Ky.).

In some of tonight's key games, Tulane, along with Georgia Tech the surprise Southeastern Conference leader, gets its big test at Kentucky while Georgia Tech (10-1 and sixth-ranked nationally) plays twice-beaten Mississippi; ninth-ranked Illinois plays at Purdue and Iowa home to Michigan State in Big 10 features; and West Virginia tries for its 57th straight Southern Conference victory against William & Mary at home.

What's in store for the elite was indicated last Saturday when fifth-ranked Utah and eight-ranked Wake Forest were beaten, and California, West Virginia, Bradley, Ohio State and Southern California—other members of the top 10—had to come from behind to win. Cincinnati ran its two-season win streak to 13 with an 83-50 romp over Tulsa, Illinois downed Minnesota 90-82, and Georgia Tech had an easy time with Mississippi State, 82-60.

Tommy Bolt's Barbs Hit By Press In South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—"The worst mannered golfer ever to visit the Union," cried the Johannesburg Express today on shocked tones.

Tommy Bolt, the hot-tempered U.S. Open champion from Crystal River, Fla., was the object of the Express' wrath.

Bolt won a challenge series against South African Gary Player, the British Open champion, a couple of weeks ago.

The Express demanded the South African Golfers Union make an official complaint to the U.S. Professional Golfers Assn. for Bolt's "appalling behavior."

The Express objected mostly to Bolt's salty language. It claimed he cursed one official who offered him a cool drink.

In another match, complained the Express, an official took a look at Bolt's lie in the rough and Tommy yelled to Player: "Say, Gary, call this imbecile off."

Continued the Express:

"It is safe to say that at each and every course on which Bolt played, he insulted at least one official. Frequently Player had to apologize for his manners.

"Never on one sports field has one man made so many enemies in so short a time."

But Tommy had some supporters.

Sid Brewer, president of the South African Professional Golfers Union, shrugged it off.

"Tommy gave color to the game here even if he splashed it on rather heavily at times," he observed.

Bobby Locke, another South African ace and four times holder of the British Open, told the Sunday Times that Player lost the series because of Bolt's "psychological treatment."

"When you play many of the Yanks, you've got to switch off your hearing aid," Locke remarked dryly.

At the moment, Bolt is on an indefinite probation by the U.S. PGA for his frequent outbursts. However, of late, he has been on his best behavior and has refrained from his old habits of tossing clubs and arguing with spectators.

Illinois Ace Holds To Bowling Lead

CHICAGO (AP)—Four participants crashed into the top ten in the $296,000 Petersen Bowling Classic over the weekend but none challenged leader Arnie Gross of Decatur, Ill.

Gross, who went into first place last week, has a total of 1627 in the tournament which carries a top prize of $25,000 and runs through June 26.

Don Fisher of Plymouth, Ind., is second with 1594 with Fritz Kuglitsch of Milwaukee third with 1580 and John Pace, Dover, Ohio, fourth with 1572.

Cliff Lofgren, Michigan City, Ind., climbed into a fifth place tie with Joe Battista Sr., Canton, Ohio. Each has 1567.

Lee's Passes Spark North

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Jack Lee broke one passing record, tied one and helped tie another in the North's 26-7 Senior Bowl victory Saturday, but another statistic indicates he may have a bright future in pro football.

Not a one of his 21 passes was intercepted, a point which probably registered strongly with the pro coaches and scouts. The Cincinnati quarterback has been drafted by the Chicago Cardinals of the National Football League and Dallas of the American League.

Lee, a slender 175-pounder, threw for two touchdowns and helped set up another. He mixed his plays well, with the running of Jimmy Joyce of Maryland and Ed Kovac of Cincinnati keeping the South defense honest.

Lee completed 13 of 21 passes for 283 yards, the most yardage since Auburn's Travis Tidwell threw for 227 in the first Senior Bowl game in 1950. The 13 completions tied another Tidwell mark.

The South completed 19 of 33 passes. The total of 56 passes thrown in the game equaled another mark set in the inaugural contest.

North Coach Jim Lee Howell of the New York Giants said Lee was the difference, but added that the Yankee defense was extra good.

South Coach Weeb Ewbank of the Baltimore Colts said he thought his defense backs had intercepted two of Lee's long passes, but they hadn't.

Tommy Bolt's Barbs Hit By Press In South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—"The worst mannered golfer ever to visit the Union," cried the Johannesburg Express today on shocked tones.

Tommy Bolt, the hot-tempered U.S. Open champion from Crystal River, Fla., was the object of the Express' wrath.

Bolt won a challenge series against South African Gary Player, the British Open champion, a couple of weeks ago.

The Express demanded the South African Golfers Union make an official complaint to the U.S. Professional Golfers Assn. for Bolt's "appalling behavior."

The Express objected mostly to Bolt's salty language. It claimed he cursed one official who offered him a cool drink.

In another match, complained the Express, an official took a look at Bolt's lje in the rough and Tommy yelled to Player: "Say, Gary, call this imbecile off."

Continued the Express:

"It is safe to say that at each and every course on which Bolt played, he insulted at least one official. Frequently Player had to apologize for his manners.

"Never on one sports field has one man made so many enemies in so short a time."

But Tommy had some supporters.

Sid Brewer, president of the South African Professional Golfers Union, shrugged it off.

"Tommy gave color to the game here even if he splashed it on rather heavily at times," he observed.

Bobby Locke, another South African ace and four times holder of the British Open, told the Sunday Times that Player lost the series because of Bolt's "psychological treatment."

"When you play many of the Yanks, you've got to switch off your hearing aid," Locke remarked dryly.

At the moment, Bolt is on an indefinite probation by the U.S. PGA for his frequent outbursts. However, of late, he has been on his best behavior and has refrained from his old habits of tossing clubs and arguing with spectators.

Illinois Ace Holds To Bowling Lead

CHICAGO (AP)—Four participants crashed into the top ten in the $296,000 Petersen Bowling Classic over the weekend but none challenged leader Arnie Gross of Decatur, Ill.

Gross, who went into first place last week, has a total of 1627 in the tournament which carries a top prize of $25,000 and runs through June 26.

Don Fisher of Plymouth, Ind., is second with 1594 with Fritz Kuglitsch of Milwaukee third with 1580 and John Pace, Dover, Ohio, fourth with 1572.

Cliff Lofgren, Michigan City, Ind., climbed into a fifth place tie with Joe Battista Sr., Canton, Ohio. Each has 1567.

Lee's Passes Spark North

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Jack Lee broke one passing record, tied one and helped tie another in the North's 26-7 Senior Bowl victory Saturday, but another statistic indicates he may have a bright future in pro football.

Not a one of his 21 passes was intercepted, a point which probably registered strongly with the pro coaches and scouts. The Cincinnati quarterback has been drafted by the Chicago Cardinals of the National Football League and Dallas of the American League.

Lee, a slender 175-pounder, threw for two touchdowns and helped set up another. He mixed his plays well, with the running of Jimmy Joyce of Maryland and Ed Kovac of Cincinnati keeping the South defense honest.

Lee completed 13 of 21 passes for 283 yards, the most yardage since Auburn's Travis Tidwell threw for 227 in the first Senior Bowl game in 1950. The 13 completions tied another Tidwell mark.

The South completed 19 of 33 passes. The total of 56 passes thrown in the game equaled another mark set in the inaugural contest.

North Coach Jim Lee Howell of the New York Giants said Lee was the difference, but added that the Yankee defense was extra good.

South Coach Weeb Ewbank of the Baltimore Colts said he thought his defense backs had intercepted two of Lee's long passes, but they hadn't.

Judge Speaks At Banquet Of Police Lodges

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff reiterated his promise to crack down on careless drivers in a move to reduce the number of traffic accidents and deaths when he spoke at the joint installation dinner of Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 29 and FOP Associates Lodge 26 Saturday night at the Travelers Hotel.

"This is not a crusade nor the action of a new broom as someone has said of me," the judge said. "This is something I am in dead earnest about and something that will continue," the new judge told the 60 attending the affair.

The judge also reviewed his bail bond program and indicated he hopes to recover some of the money owed the city in delinquent fines.

Reviewing the increasing number of autos on the highways and the highway accidents which have taken more lives than all of the wars America has engaged in, Judge Chertoff pointed out auto insurance rates are "twice as high as necessary."

"We—you and I and millions of others—are paying insurance for the rum-dums and the people who have no business driving an auto," he said.

"Just as an income tax cheater is taking money from your pocket, many of the drivers on the roads today are sticking their hands in your pockets and grabbing some of it. Maybe you like it. I don't," the judge declared.

" Why the dopes, and I say they are dopes, cannot resist the urge to step on the gas when the road stretches before them; why they drive when they are tired; why they drive when they have been drinking; why they are so eager to take up a fast challenge from some belligerent kid, or why they insist on talking and taking their eyes off the road, or why they fast pedal is something that's a mystery to me.

"Until some people learn that an auto is capable of committing murder unless handled properly, they have no business in the driver's seat."

"I propose to make it tough on this type of driver. In doing this, I am trying to protect the good drivers, the ones who do not get into trouble and the careful drivers. If I can accomplish this, I feel that I will have helped the good drivers and the community as a whole."

Discussing the bail bond program, Judge Chertoff said he deliberately set the minimum bond at $25 and costs to get the traffic offender into court so his license could be checked and, if found guilty, marked on the back of the license with the violation.

"This is not new. This law has been on the books for a long time. It just hadn't been enforced," he declared.

However, the judge said it's possible the fine may be lower than the bond posted and a refund will be made. But he also cautioned that bonds are for appearance only.

Even if they forfeit a bond, I may issue a capias for their arrest anyway. After all, the bond was only for their appearance," Judge Chertoff continued.

There will be no more "time payments" or arrangements to pay fines, he said, warning "Either they pay or they will sit it out in jail," he emphasized.

"I don't know how much is owed the city. It can possibly run into the thousands of dollars. Sometime later, possibly by summer, I intend to have a survey made of the monies due the court. If we can collect this money, maybe we can get you boys some raises — which you richly deserve," he concluded.

Judge Chertoff also praised the police officers, declaring he believes "you are doing a good job, an honest job and a thorough job," and adding the department's efficiency and morale "have increased 100 per cent in the last few years."

Judge Chertoff also paid tribute to Police Chief Americo Radeschi, declaring that with his training at the FBI National Academy "we have the beginning of a department second to none in the state."

Judge Chertoff was introduced by George Mueller, who was master of ceremonies.

Patrolman Charles E. (Bill) Tice was installed as president of the FOP, succeeding Patrolman Willian A. Devon. Frank Weaver was seated as president of the FOPA, replacing Hollis Logue.

The other FOP officers installed were Patrolman Robert B. Pyle, vice president; Patrolman W. E. McDaniel, secretary-treasurer; Patrolman Paul Lemal, outer guard; Patrolman Kenneth Mooney, inner guard; Patrolman Floyd K. Heddleston, chaplain, and Capt. Robert H. Pyle, Lt. Thomas A. Walker and Patrolman Charles A. Winters, trustees.

Other officers of the FOPA are Don Ramsey, vice president; Joseph Blankenship, secretary-treasurer; Richard Allison, inner guard; Henry Tice, outer guard; Logue, one-year trustee, and the Rev. George Grafton, chaplain.

The invocation was given by John Mostoller, minister of the First Church of Christ, and the benediction was pronounced by Fr. Thomas G. Mulhearn, assistant pastor of the St. Aloysius Catholic Church.

ASWAN, Egypt (AP) — Egypt celebrated some more Sunday as President Gamal Abdel Nasser opened a new 85-million-dollar hydroelectric plant 4½ miles up the Nile from the site of the Aswan high dam.

The plant initially will produce 22,000 kilowatts. Eventually output will be expanded to 351,000 kilowatts. Eighty per cent of this will be used by a nearby fertilizer plant.

A French firm began construction of the power plant but pulled out after the British and French invaded the Suez Canal Zone. West Germans aided engineers of the United Arab Republic in completing the work.

The plant initially will produce 22,000 kilowatts. Eventually output will be expanded to 351,000 kilowatts. Eighty per cent of this will be used by a nearby fertilizer plant.

A French firm began construction of the power plant but pulled out after the British and French invaded the Suez Canal Zone. West Germans aided engineers of the United Arab Republic in completing the work.
